CHINESE troops, near Wuhu, fired bullets against the bridge of the American destroyer, Preble, while that war boat was kindly escorting a Standard oil craft on the Yangtse river.

The Preble answered with machine gun fire. Nobody hurt, except possibly a few Chinese.

It could not be helped, and there may be more trouble like that and more serious. Too bad it can't be helped.

The Yangtse is a Chinese river. We should be much annoyed if a Chinese warship were escorting a Chinese oilship, against our will, up the Hudson or inside the Golden Gate.

THE great Borah and Butler debate is arranged. The senator will uphold prohibition, the college professor will try to prove that it is the cause of all our woes.

When the debate ends we shall be just where we were; some believing that you can make men good by law, others that they must learn to be wise, stumbling, failing, finally learning, as a child learns to walk.

MEANWHILE we have bootleg whisky and the world's biggest crime wave. Also we have extraordinary prosperity, and the most amazing savings deposits and land booms.

It is for each to decide for himself, but deciding will make no difference. Prohibition is here and will stay until after Senator Borah loses interest in politics and Dr. Butler joins the earth alumni, in realms above.

THE League of Nations' committee to "stave off war" makes an announcement that should calm any savage breast.

In addition to making naval demonstrations against any nation that insists on fighting when the league happens to object, "aerial demonstrations can be used, in the future, within reasonable limits."

This means, in plainer English, that the League of Nations will send flying machines roaring over the obstinate nation's big cities, sending down this notice, "We have with us, up here, an assortment of explosive bombs and poisonous gases that would interest you considerably, if we dropped them. Behave yourselves."

Such a demonstration, if the league chose to direct it against this much disliked nation would interest us. We have not even dug hiding places for our populations, much less arranged to protect them. We should have to imitate Crockett's intelligent coon, which said "Don't shoot, I'll come down."

Both Sides Deny Settlement Rumor In Libel Action

DETROIT, Mich., March 7.—Rumors that a settlement out of court is pending in the Ford-Sapiro million-dollar libel suit were emphatically denied today by both sides.

"No offer of settlement was ever made by Mr. Ford and none is contemplated," said Clifford B. Longley, his personal attorney.

"I have not been offered a settlement," said Aaron Sapiro, the plaintiff, "none is pending and none would be acceptable."

So unless some legal obstacles intervene the case will be decided by the jury.

Missouri Senator, Presidential Possibility in 1928, Declares Charges Made Against Chicago Man Were Justified.

DEFENDS RICHEST MAN IN AMERICA

Plaintiff's Counsel in $1,000,000 Libel Suit Tells Jury Sapiro Was Injured in Three Ways by Publication.

By William K. Hutchinson.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 17. — Senator James A. Reed, a presidential possibility in 1928, captured the spotlight today in the Ford-Sapiro million-dollar libel suit.

Charges True, Reed Says.

In a new role, that of defender, Reed made a passionate defense of Henry Ford's attacks upon Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "prince of farm organizers," and a "Jewish ring," which Ford's Dearborn Independent charged were exploiting the American farmer.

The Missouri Democrat told the fifty-fifty jury of men and women, the attacks were justified because they were true.

A packed court room saw a new Reed in action. It was a different role he assumed from that of prosecutor in the famous slush fund investigations. He defended the richest man in America, however, with the same zeal he displayed in revealing the huge expenditures in the Pennsylvania and Illinois senatorial campaigns.

For Never Saw Articles.

Reed made it plain that Ford's chief defense will be that the attacks on Sapiro were true.

"The law put no bridle in the mouth of truth," said Reed. "We claim more and we shall try to prove it that all the articles published about Sapiro were true."

Henry Ford never saw the articles published in the Dearborn Independent, Reed declared. The auto king had nothing to do with their publication, he added, but the Ford organization will not deny the articles were published as quoted by Sapiro in filing the libel suit.

Gallagher's Opening Statement.

Before Reed began, William H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel closing his opening statement to the jury.

Sapiro was injured in three ways, said Gallagher. Ford attacked him as a man of honor, his loyalty to clients and his work as an organizer of cooperatives. The attacks, said Sapiro's attorney, were published in the Dearborn Independent at a time when its circulation was 600,000.

"There were at least two readers for each issue," said Gallagher.

"There were 20 of these articles published. That means these were 20,000,000 separate libels against my client."

Gallagher declared Sapiro did not have to prove his good character nor that he had been damaged by the Ford publication.

"It is presumed that Mr. Sapiro has a good character, and that he was damaged by the libelous articles," he said. "That is the law.

"When these attacks were made, though, we will show that he was at

NANKING FALLS INTO HANDS OF CANTON ARMY, SHANGHAI SAYS

Another Report Denies Capture, But Admits City is Menaced.

HEAVY FIGHTING

Fall of Ancient Capital Would be Great Victory.

PEKING, March 17.—Accusing the Chinese authorities of faking the incriminating papers found aboard the Pamlat Lenina, the Soviet embassy in a third note today demanded immediate release of the ship, and of Mme. Borodin and the three diplomatic couriers who were arrested.

The note adds that the couriers were subjected to unheard of indignities, and were handcuffed following their arrest.

By ALFRED MEYER.

SHANGHAI, March 17. — Heavy fighting is in progress about Nanking and there are unconfirmed reports that it has already fallen to the Cantonese.

Another report states that the Cantonese have not captured Nanking but are menacing it.

Pi Shou Chen, Shanghai defense commissioner, stated today that heavy fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Nanking and predicted a sweeping Kuochun victory. He declared startling developments are imminent but refused to disclose details.

The General Labor Union has accepted the report of the fall of Nanking and in celebration has ordered a general strike. There are 13,000 idle already and it is expected that 250,000 will eventually be involved in the strike.

Excitement in Shanghai.

The capture of Nanking, the ancient capital of China and present capital of Kiangsu, would be great victory for the Cantonese troops almost equivalent to the fall of Shanghai. The fall of Nanking would undoubtedly mean the eventual fall of Shanghai.

There are five American firms doing business in Nanking and the last census showed more than 400 Americans resident there, but it is believed that many of these have already left for the city of Shanghai.

The reports concerning the fall of Nanking have caused great excitement in Shanghai, particularly in the native city. Every precaution is being taken by the foreign authorities to prevent celebrators from making any attempt to enter the international settlement. The British guards which have been posted on the outskirts of the settlement are on the alert and volunteers are ready for a call to service at any moment.

The British authorities today arrested two Mohammedans and one Sikh who will probably face charges of attempting to incite sedition in the camps of the Indian regiments. All three were held without bail. The British military authorities announced they are making an inquiry to determine whether Indian communist organizations are active in Shanghai.

Kiangnan Docks Seized.

LONDON, March 17.—General Pi has seized control of the Kiangnan docks in the native city of Shanghai where a number of American vessels are under re-construction, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the Daily Express. The dispatch states that General Pi has declared the seizure of the docks necessary because of urgently needed repairs to northern warships.

Admiral Williams of the United States naval forces has dispatched a warship to the Kiangnan dock district to protect American interests there.

Fall of Mould Kills Laborer.

HAMILTON, March 17.—Edward Baerman, laborer, was dead here today from injuries sustained when a large mould, containing a 2,000 pound iron casting, fell from a moving crane and struck him.

CANTON LAWYER GETS RIGHT TO INTERVIEW M'DERMOTT IN PRISON

Appellate Court Mandate in Mellett Case, However, is Suspended Pending Warden's Appeal.

ACTION DEFERRED UNTIL MARCH 28

E. L. Mills Wins Fight for Permission to Talk Privately With Convicted Slayer of Canton News Editor.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—E. L. Mills, attorney, was granted the right to confer privately with Pat McDermott, serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, by the court of appeals here today. The mandate, however, was suspended until the supreme court has had an opportunity to pass upon an appeal of the decision by the court of appeals. The appeal was filed by Warden P. E. Thomas of the penitentiary.

In its ruling the court of appeals suspended its mandate until March 28, after which time Mills will be allowed to interview McDermott if the supreme court concurs with the appellate court.

Thomas Will Fight Ruling.

"I most assuredly will fight this ruling to the supreme court," Warden Thomas said today when learning the decision of the lower court. "I want to know who is running the penitentiary, and I want the supreme court to decide who is responsible for the care and conduct of prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary.'

The court of appeals in its ruling declared itself of "the opinion that Mills is entitled to a mandate ordering Warden Thomas to allow him to have a private interview with his client at a reasonable hour and day to be prescribed by the warden."

Mills has for two months been refused the right to a private interview with McDermott, though Warden Thomas has agreed to allow an interview of the presence of himself or penitentiary officer.

Potter Compares His Snake Killing With St. Patrick's

ZANESVILLE, O., March 17.—Grant Davis, Weller pottery employe here, today was comparing his snake killing record with that credited to a saintly old man who lived centuries ago on the shores of the Irish sea.

Davis walked into town Wednesday and told of having killed 11 garter snakes all over two feet long in a ten-minute walk near the pottery.

"That's a lot of snakes," remarked a fellow employe.

"Ever hear of a man called St Patrick?" queried another.

Senate Adopts Resolution on Improvement of "Narrows."

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—"If the referendum provision of the constitution of Ohio is to be frittered away on such slight pretexts as those outlined in these bills, there soon will be nothing left of it," declared Governor Vic Donahey today, announcing that he had vetoed two more bills.

Four times during the present session, the governor has vetoed measures enacted by the Ohio legislature.

The bills which today received the disapproving signature of the governor are: By Representative E. D. Stone, Guernsey county, seeking to authorize the leasing of county, township and school district lands for iron ore, coal, petroleum, gas and other minerals, and by Representative Gilbert Morgan, Cleveland, providing for printing and distributing session laws and other public documents. The emergency clause was attached to each bill for the purpose of making them effective immediately as laws.

Legislative leaders were considering what action should be taken by the solons as a result of the veto of the item in the supplementary appropriations bill which sought to provide $16,783 for salaries and expenses of the proposed state board to examine

Miss Cora Dewees, 18, daughter of Mrs. Mary Dewees, Louisiana avenue, Chester, is in a critical condition today in her home, as a result, it is alleged, of taking four bichloride of mercury tablets last night in mistake for headache medicine.

The girl, discovering her mistake, called her mother who summoned Dr. George R. Lewis.

The drug victim's condition was serious throughout the night, while she showed no improvement at noon, it was said.

Friends said she had been in ill health and had been subject to frequent headaches.

KIWANIS SINGS IRISH NUMBERS

Landscape Architect Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

Irish songs in observance of St. Patrick's day were sung by members of the Kiwanis club at the luncheon meeting in Larkins' annex, Market street, at noon today. The songfest was in charge of H. F. Laughlin, with Claire Chambers as accompanist. Kenneth Smith rendered solos.

Tel W. Nicolet, Pittsburgh landscape architect, discussed zoning as a means of protecting residential property. Mayor Ralph Benedum, Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, President of Council N. P. Kerr and James S. Hilbert, members of the city planning commission, attended the meeting.

Charles W. Hendershot, first vice-president, presided. Special guests were Charles Persohn, president of the Kiwanis club at Lakewood; Wilson F. Smith, this city; C. C. Macdonald and W. W. Ingram, both of Chester.

Members accepted the invitation of the Salineville Kiwanis club to attend an inter-city meeting to be held at Salineville next Tuesday evening. The program will be given by members of the local club, Harry Keys, chairman of the inter-city relations committee, said.

Nicolet declared that East Liverpool faced a real problem in handling automobile traffic after the Lincoln Highway through West Virginia is completed. He urged that streets be constructed so as to withstand the type of travel to which they will be subject. Everywhere, the speaker asserted, there is a movement to divert traffic around instead of through cities.

EFFORTS TOWARD PEACE IN NICARAGUA ABANDONED, OWING TO PROBABILITY OF MILITARY DECISION

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 17.—Efforts towards peace in Nicaragua have been abandoned for the time being, owing to the probability of a military decision in a short time.

Conservative headquarters announce that General Moncada has withdrawn his forces to Matiguas and is avoiding contact with the federal troops.

A peace mission which was to have started for Puerto Cabezas to attempt to urge Dr. Sacasa, Liberal leader to give up his efforts to win military successes, has been abandoned as those interested feel that the war will have been brought to a conclusion by a decisive battle before they could reach Puerto Cabezas.

Liberals in the Managua district are reported dissatisfied with Dr. Sacasa for his refusal to end the warfare immediately, feeling that the struggle is now hopeless and that further fighting will mean only needless sacrifices of life.

Although the government states that general Moncada and his Liberal forces are striving to avoid battle, they announce that federal troops are hot on the trail and will press for either a decisive battle or surrender.

The government announces that it lost 61 dead and 70 wounded in the battles at San Jeronimo and Tierra Azule on Tuesday. It estimates that the Liberals lost 200 dead and 100 wounded.

General Moncada's effective forces have been reduced by 20 per cent during this week's fighting, the government claims.

Admiral Latimer has left for Corinto, but prior to his departure he congratulated the editors of La Prensa for their initiative in putting out an English section of their paper, carrying International News Service dispatches, for the benefit of American marines and sailors.

CANTON LAWYER GETS RIGHT TO INTERVIEW M'DERMOTT IN PRISON

ACTION DEFERRED UNTIL MARCH 28

E. L. Mills Wins Fight for Permission to Talk Privately With Convicted Slayer of Canton News Editor.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—E. L. Mills, attorney, was granted the right to confer privately with Pat McDermott, serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, by the court of appeals here today. The mandate, however, was suspended until the supreme court has had an opportunity to pass upon an appeal of the decision by the court of appeals. The appeal was filed by Warden P. E. Thomas of the penitentiary.

In its ruling the court of appeals suspended its mandate until March 28, after which time Mills will be allowed to interview McDermott if the supreme court concurs with the appellate court.

Thomas Will Fight Ruling.

"I most assuredly will fight this ruling to the supreme court," Warden Thomas said today when learning the decision of the lower court. "I want to know who is running the penitentiary, and I want the supreme court to decide who is responsible for the care and conduct of prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary."

The court of appeals in its ruling declared itself of "the opinion that Mills is entitled to a mandate ordering Warden Thomas to allow him to have a private interview with his client at a reasonable hour and day to be prescribed by the warden."

Mills has for two months been refused the right to a private interview with McDermott, though Warden Thomas has agreed to allow an interview of the presence of himself or penitentiary officer.

Potter Compares His Snake Killing With St. Patrick's

ZANESVILLE, O., March 17.—Grant Davis, Weller pottery employe here, today was comparing his snake killing record with that credited to a saintly old man who lived centuries ago on the shores of the Irish sea.

Davis walked into town Wednesday and told of having killed 11 garter snakes all over two feet long in a ten-minute walk near the pottery.

"That's a lot of snakes," remarked a fellow employe.

"Ever hear of a man called St Patrick?" queried another.

Senate Adopts Resolution on Improvement of "Narrows."

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—"If the referendum provision of the constitution of Ohio is to be frittered away on such slight pretexts as those outlined in these bills, there soon will be nothing left of it," declared Governor Vic Donahey today, announcing that he had vetoed two more bills.

Four times during the present session, the governor has vetoed measures enacted by the Ohio legislature.

The bills which today received the disapproving signature of the governor are: By Representative E. D. Stone, Guernsey county, seeking to authorize the leasing of county, township and school district lands for iron ore, coal, petroleum, gas and other minerals, and by Representative Gilbert Morgan, Cleveland, providing for printing and distributing session laws and other public documents. The emergency clause was attached to each bill for the purpose of making them effective immediately as laws.

Legislative leaders were considering what action should be taken by the solons as a result of the veto of the item in the supplementary appropriations bill which sought to provide $16,783 for salaries and expenses of the proposed state board to examine

Deadly Drug Taken at Home in Louisiana Avenue.

Miss Cora Dewees, 18, daughter of Mrs. Mary Dewees, Louisiana avenue, Chester, is in a critical condition today in her home, as a result, it is alleged, of taking four bichloride of mercury tablets last night in mistake for headache medicine.

The girl, discovering her mistake, called her mother who summoned Dr. George E. Lewis.

The drug victim's condition was serious throughout the night, while she showed no improvement at noon, it was said.

Friends said she had been in ill health and had been subject to frequent headaches.

KIWANIS SINGS IRISH NUMBERS

Landscape Architect Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

Irish songs in observance of St. Patrick's day were sung by members of the Kiwanis club at the luncheon meeting in Larkins' annex, Market street, at noon today. The songfest was in charge of H. F. Laughlin, with Claire Chambers as accompanist. Kenneth Smith rendered solos.

Tel W. Nicolet, Pittsburgh landscape architect, discussed zoning as a means of protecting residential property. Mayor Ralph Benedum, Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, President of Council N. P. Kerr and James S. Hilbert, members of the city planning commission, attended the meeting.

Charles W. Hendershot, first vice-president, presided. Special guests were Charles Persohn, president of the Kiwanis club at Lakewood; Wilson F. Smith, this city; C. C. Macdonald and W. W. Ingram, both of Chester.

Members accepted the invitation of the Salineville Kiwanis club to attend an inter-city meeting to be held at Salineville next Tuesday evening. The program will be given by members of the local club, Harry Keys, chairman of the inter-city relations committee, said.

Nicolet declared that East Liverpool faced a real problem in handling automobile traffic after the Lincoln Highway through West Virginia is completed. He urged that streets be constructed so as to withstand the type of travel to which they will be subject. Everywhere, the speaker asserted, there is a movement to divert traffic around instead of through cities.

EFFORTS TOWARD PEACE IN NICARAGUA ABANDONED, OWING TO PROBABILITY OF MILITARY DECISION

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 17.—Efforts towards peace in Nicaragua have been abandoned for the time being, owing to the probability of a military decision in a short time.

Conservative headquarters announce that General Moncada has withdrawn his forces to Matiguas and is avoiding contact with the federal troops.

A peace mission which was to have started for Puerto Cabezas to attempt to urge Dr. Sacasa, Liberal leader to give up his efforts to win military successes, has been abandoned as those interested feel that the war will have been brought to a conclusion by a decisive battle before they could reach Puerto Cabezas.

Liberals in the Managua district are reported dissatisfied with Dr. Sacasa for his refusal to end the warfare immediately, feeling that the struggle is now hopeless and that further fighting will mean only needless sacrifices of life.

Although the government states that general Moncada and his Liberal forces are striving to avoid battle, they announce that federal troops are hot on the trail and will press for either a decisive battle or surrender.

The government announces that it lost 61 dead and 70 wounded in the battles at San Jeronimo and Tierra Azule on Tuesday. It estimates that the Liberals lost 200 dead and 100 wounded.

General Moncada's effective forces have been reduced by 20 per cent during this week's fighting, the government claims.

Admiral Latimer has left for Corinto, but prior to his departure he congratulated the editors of La Prensa for their initiative in putting out an English section of their paper, carrying International News Service dispatches, for the benefit of American marines and sailors.

CHAPTER SIXTY-SIX.

"Well, Mr. Center," said Claypole. "This is a sure enough transformation scene, and I can't say I'm sorry."

The Center looked at him a moment.

"You very fortunate man," he said at last. "I bow to superior force of European governments. Also I congratulate brave American detective on excellent impersonation of Finckelstein. Very lifelike and deceptive."

Claypole smiled, rubbing his wrists which still bore the marks of the cords with which his hands had been bound.

"Well, Sergeant, what are you going to do with the prisoners?" he asked.

The Commissioner is coming up," replied the sergeant. "He will be here in a moment."

The voice of the Center broke in.

"May I be permitted to lower quite empty and useless hands?" he inquired. "Fatigue of upright posture very great."

"I'm sorry," said Claypole firmly, "but we can't afford to take any risks with you, Mr. Center."

He turned to the gendarme.

"Better put on the handcuffs."

"There isn't another pair," replied the man, "not till the Commissioner arrives."

"It was lucky for me you shouted," remarked Claypole.

"There was a crash," I said, "immediately afterwards. What happened?"

"I turned over the chair, which put them off their stroke, but they had me upon it again, and if the door had held another second, it would have been a long farewell to all my greatness."

There was a pause as we waited for the Commissioner to arrive. I turned to Claypole in some excitement. I was longing to know why he had not come with the Center to the caves.

"Tell me," I said, "why did you miss that appointment at Cartigny?"

"Well," he replied, "the Center just wouldn't come and that was the end of it. 'It was against first principle of his organization to go in person,' he said. What was worse, the Ring had decided that I must say where the drugs were and remain here as a hostage for their safe delivery. I had to take it or leave it. They were beginning to smell a rat in my beard, and I did not dare to increase their suspicion by holding out. Then when the chauffeur turned up just now, I found that Mr. Center meant in any case to cut the vital cord of Finckelstein. So I peeled away the face fungus and prepared to face the music."

He broke off, as I heard footsteps coming down the corridor.

"That'll be the Commissioner," I said.

The footsteps approached, and a hand was laid on the door.

At this moment the Center, who had hitherto stood motionless before the pistol of the gendarme, suddenly said something softly in Japanese. The effect was immediate.

The uninjured Japanese servant, who, as I have already said, was standing at the window handcuffed, lifted his head sharply. He glanced rapidly at the gendarme in charge of him on his right, and crooking his left leg behind him, struck the man in the groin. The gendarme collapsed, and the Japanese sprang to the window.

In an instant I remembered the brass holdback with the graven face that held back the curtain. Sure enough, the man was pressing the mouth of the image with his manacled hands, and there was a click just as Claypole and I laid hands on him.

Simultaneously the door was flung open and the Commissioner and one or two gendarmes appeared, but I had no eyes for them, for the Center had meanwhile dropped to the ground as though shot, and, rising again immediately, had seized the trouser leg of the gendarme covering him, jerking them violently upwards with the result that the man fell heavily onto his back. In a bound, the Center was on the bed and through the hole in the wall leading to the secret pasasge down which I had walked the first time I had tried to escape. He vanished through the panel and the next instant it slid back into position. I dashed forward and pressed the carved knob, but the panel refused to move. The passage was closed, and we should now have to find the room to which it led.

"Quick," I shouted. "Follow me."

I rushed out of the door, past the bewildered Commissioner and, with Claypole at my heels, darted down the corridor.

"Don't say he's escaped," groaned Claypole, as he ran beside me.

"He's gone to his private room," I answered. "There's a way up the chimney on to the roof, but he can't get down from there. I've tried it myself and it's impossible. He's bound to go to his own room, but I hope to Heaven there's no other secret passage."

We reached the padded door leading to the living quarters of the house. Beside it stood a gendarme.

What's What in Washington

PRESIDENT'S CHOICE OF WEST LOOKED UPON AS SHREWD MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Never say Calvin Coolidge isn't a diplomat.

He's going to spend next summer in the west.

From the temporary White House at 15 Dupont Circle this information has been definitely given out.

Nothing crass. Nothing abrupt. No bald announcement that Mr. Coolidge is a candidate to succeed himself as president, with a crudely implied warning to other aspirants to "keep off."

Just a little social note.

Everybody's been wondering where the presidential family would "summer."

Well, it's going to "summer" in the west.

Anybody got any fault to find? Emphatically NOT—out loud.

It's been suggested repeatedly that President Coolidge is a little shy on knowledge of the west.

He's going to repair this deficiency, if any, now.

It's suggested that he'll do it in the vicinity of Colorado Springs, but the exact spot's a mere detail, so long as it's done in the "vast open spaces," where it's conceivible that a certain feeling of soreness still lingers over the presidential veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Dr. Nicolas Murray Butler didn't convince many politicians when he said he didn't believe President Coolidge wants another term.

The politicians have been dead sure all along that that's exactly what the president wants. However, they did figure that it was a pretty difficult thing for him to come right out and say.

His rivals have been waiting impatiently for him to declare himself ever since the spring of 1925. They'd have preferred to have him say he'd refuse a renomination. But they admitted among themselves that they didn't expect he would. The next best thing, as they had it doped out, would be to have him announce, "Yes, I'm a 1928 candidate."

Because the minute he did that, they intended to spring the "third term bogey" on him.

The president's friends argued, to be sure, that the "third term bogey" wasn't a "bogy" at all. All the same, they didn't care to have it lugged out.

Maybe that's why Mr. Coolidge was so slow about proclaiming himself a 1928 candidate. He knew what would happen the minute he did. On the other hand, he knew the "bogy" couldn't be used against him so long as he didn't declare himself once more in the running, in so many words.

Was there any way for him to let the whole country know he wanted another term, without asking for it, out and out?—some way he could put himself on record, to all intents and purposes, and yet defy the "bogey?"

Sure there was. He could do it by spending a summer out west, popularizing himself.

Anybody who knows President Coolidge knows he never would "summer" in the west except for some mighty good reason. The good reason's very obvious. The president doesn't need to worry about a recommendation so for as the east's concerned, but his chances in the west have ben recognized as a bit dubious, especially since he turned down the McNary-Haugen bill.

That he'd profit politically by a summer's stay out west has been so plain that some of his advisers have even hinted at it, but nobody really thought he'd fall for the idea.

Heh as fallen for it, though.

If he'd explain it in letters a foot high, it wouldn't be any clearer that he's after western support in 1928. A million loud speakers couldn't have broadcast his candidacy any more distinctly. And yet the president hasn't published it in a way to justify prodeduction of the "bogey."

Diplomacy! Why, it's a regular "coup," as they express it at the state department.

Mother! Now You Know How To Help Your Puny, Weak Child

It's Your Duty to Aid Him to Grow Strong, Active and Sound in Body and Mind.

That little boy or girl of yours—that doesn't weigh enough—that isn't strong—has no appetite—lacks vigor and is perhaps backward, listless and timid.

What are you going to do with him?

Have you ever heard of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar coated and as easy for ailing children to take as candy?

Every druggist in America sells them—60 tablets, 60 cents—and the supremely good combination of upbuilding agents surely does help the sickly, run down, puny, frail little ones.

No need to give him any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—McCoy's Tablets, rich in vitamines, are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine, and they surely do.

Try them as directed for 30 days, mother; and if at the end of that time you are not delighted with the improvement in your dear little one, get your money back.

You can get them at any druggist and remember, too, they are fine for thin, run down, underweight men and women who need more flesh, strength, vigor and vitality. Demand McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Here's Speedy Relief From Bunions and Soft Corns

Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway Say Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Scaterns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

TO STOP NAUSEA IN THE MORNING

Or Goneness in the Stomach At any Time

Try a little diapepsin. You may be so sick in the morning that the odor of food adds to your misery. And yet one or two diapepsins instantly settle your stomach, the nausea disappears and you actually become hungry.

Diapepsin is composed of powerful digesters. They work on everything you eat, digesting starchy foods, milk, cream, eggs, meat and also absorb acids and gas. Heartburn, biliousness and dizziness disappear almost instantly.

Nausea may come from many causes but diapepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diapepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

Get a 60 cent package of Pape's Diapepsin at any drug store. You'll never tolerate nausea again.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

PRESIDENT'S CHOICE OF WEST LOOKED UPON AS SHREWD MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Never say Calvin Coolidge isn't a diplomat.

He's going to spend next summer in the west.

From the temporary White House at 15 Dupont Circle this information has been definitely given out.

Nothing crass. Nothing abrupt. No bald announcement that Mr. Coolidge is a candidate to succeed himself as president, with a crudely implied warning to other aspirants to "keep off."

Just a little social note.

Well, it's going to "summer" in the west.

Anybody got any fault to find? Emphatically NOT—out loud.

It's been suggested repeatedly that President Coolidge is a little shy on knowledge of the west.

He's going to repair this deficiency, if any, now.

It's suggested that he'll do it in the vicinity of Colorado Springs, but the exact spot's a mere detail, so long as it's done in the "vast open spaces," where it's conceivible that a certain feeling of soreness still lingers over the presidential veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Dr. Nicolas Murray Butler didn't convince many politicians when he said he didn't believe President Coolidge wants another term.

The politicians have been dead sure all along that that's exactly what the president wants. However, they did figure that it was a pretty difficult thing for him to come right out and say.

His rivals have been waiting impatiently for him to declare himself ever since the spring of 1925. They'd have preferred to have him say he'd refuse a renomination. But they admitted among themselves that they didn't expect he would. The next best thing, as they had it doped out, would be to have him announce, "Yes, I'm a 1928 candidate."

Because the minute he did that, they intended to spring the "third term bogey" on him.

The president's friends argued, to be sure, that the "third term bogey" wasn't a "bogy" at all. All the same, they didn't care to have it lugged out.

Maybe that's why Mr. Coolidge was so slow about proclaiming himself a 1928 candidate. He knew what would happen the minute he did. On the other hand, he knew the "bogy" couldn't be used against him so long as he didn't declare himself once more in the running, in so many words.

Was there any way for him to let the whole country know he wanted another term, without asking for it, out and out?—some way he could put himself on record, to all intents and purposes, and yet defy the "bogey?"

Sure there was. He could do it by spending a summer out west, popularizing himself.

Anybody who knows President Coolidge knows he never would "summer" in the west except for some mighty good reason. The good reason's very obvious. The president doesn't need to worry about a recommendation so for as the east's concerned, but his chances in the west have been recognized as a bit dubious, especially since he turned down the McNary-Haugen bill.

That he'd profit politically by a summer's stay out west has been so plain that some of his advisers have even hinted at it, but nobody really thought he'd fall for the idea.

Heh as fallen for it, though.

If he'd explain it in letters a foot high, it wouldn't be any clearer that he's after western support in 1928. A million loud speakers couldn't have broadcast his candidacy any more distinctly. And yet the president hasn't published it in a way to justify prodeduction of the "bogey."

Diplomacy! Why, it's a regular "coup," as they express it at the state department.

WESTERN FILM AT AMERICAN

Francis McDonald Stars in "Valley of Hell."

There is a new star on the western horizon. The altogether interesting and versatile Francis McDonald, long a favorite in motion pictures, has arranged to produce eight western romantic dramas for release by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and the first of these, "The Valley of Hell," will form the piece de resistance of the American Theatre program tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

A most efficient and highly experienced organization has been built around McDonald, who will be starred in these western productions. Isidore Bernstein, who has been largely responsible for the success of the Jack Hoxie westerns, is supervising the McDonald pictures. Cliff Smith, who has directed Hoxie under Bernstein's supervision, and who also directed William S. Hart for years, having made some of that actor's greatest pictures, is at the megaphone.

The outfit henceforth will be known as The Big Horn Ranch Riders, and exteriors for the eight westerns have been found at the justly famous Big Horn Ranch near Moapa, Nevada, a locale abounding in the rugged, picturesque scenery so important to the western type of cinema.

McDonald is well known as a player of both leading and heavy roles, and his versatility makes him particularly desirable in western atmosphere. Handsome, daring, and an expert rider and roper, he gives promise of soon becoming a favorite with lovers of the western type of film. He has been surrounded with a band of the most skillful riders, and a complement of Indians completes the roster of the supernumeraries.

Edna Murphy supports McDonald in "The Valley of Hell," and others in the cast are William Steele, Anita Garvin and Joe Bennett.

Sao Paulo and Cantos, Brazil, are to be connected by an automobile highway.

The first soda fountain ever to appear in Concepcion, Chile, has been installed recently in the lobby of a theatre.

Two hundred railway passenger cars in Yorkshirt, England, ran away recently and crashed into an embankment.

Says Redwood's Tepee Tonic Relieved Her of Constipation and Restored General Good Health.

"But since taking Redwood's Tepee Tonic it is not necessary for me to take pills as my bowels are as regular as they can be.

Redwood

"I have a good appetite and am stronger, too. I sleep soundly at night and am not bothered with gas on my stomach.

"I'll recommend Tepee Herb Tonic to everybody and I know they will do the same when they have tried it."

Tepee Herb Tonic is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Store and by well stocked drug stores everywhere.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1927.

Improvement of Narrows

Improvement of the "Narrows," a five-mile strip of the Ohio river highway, which extends from East Liverpool to Cincinnati, a distance of 428 miles, is a foregone conclusion if the state senate approves and the United States congress heeds the suggestion in a resolution introduced at Columbus by State Senator Harry M. Carpenter of Steubenville.

The proposal, which probably will be adopted by the legislature, requests congress to enact such legislation, or amendments to existing laws, as will permit the use of federal funds to the extent of 50 per cent. of the cost of the "Narrows" work as well as the improvement of a 12-mile section of this all-important artery of transportation between Shadyside and Powhatan in Belmont county.

Increased federal aid is urged because the expensive construction, due to the fact that it will be necessary to excavate sandstone bluffs, is too much of a burden upon the state and counties. Without aid from the national treasury it is improbable that the work shall be undertaken.

Need of improvement of the "Narrows" has been frequently cited by the East Liverpool and Wellsville Chambers of Commerce as well as the commissioners of Columbiana and Jefferson counties. And, too, the road has been inspected by Gov. A. V. Donahey and officials of the state highway department who are cognizant of the situation.

Favorable action on the resolution now before the legislature should prove an important factor in getting wide territory served by the "Narrows" out of the mud.

Good 1927

Time are due to be good for almost everybody during the current year, say the Washington forecasters. But there are two exceptions—the farmer and the bituminous miner. The miner may have no income at all after April 1, and the farmer's chances are not so good as everybody wishes they were.

But people who have jobs have better incomes than ever before. An abundance of credit at low rates is made possible by a flood of gold pouring into this country from all over the world. An increasing manufacturing efficiency is resulting in lower prices for many products, which increases the sales. The railroads are able to handle greater volume of goods with less difficulty than ever before.

All these points make for orderly prosperity. Now if the farmer will diversify his crops and increase his co-operative activities enough to keep his head above water until some method appears to give him permanent aid, and if the miners and operators can arrive at some solution of their problems, the country should be a happy place.

The man who overbuys his income, however, is going to be just as miserable as ever. But the man who buys sanely as well as generously has the best chance in the history of the world.

Long-Range Photos

A photographer of the army air service proposes to take a photograph of New Yory City from Rochester, 300 miles away. Or at least, to try. He expects to snap the metropolis from a plane 40,000 feet up in the air. It is pretty clear up that high, as a rule, and one can see for a long distance over the curve of the earth, and there are new cameras and equipment of remarkable range. Experiments at Dayton, O., resulted in fair photographs of scenes 140 miles away.

So the camera already outranges the famous big guns with which the Germans shelled Paris from a safe distance behind their own battle lines. The new range photograph will greatly increase the efficiency of such guns, by showing the gunners the marks they are aiming at and the damage done by their shells. War scouting of all kinds will be greatly aided.

As for civil use, that is another matter. Who wants to have his picture taken without his knowledge, from an invisible airplane somewhere up in the sky 50 or 100 miles away? It will make a person nervous to go outdoors if there are any planes and cameras in the state capable of such spooky work.

Real Estate Signs

"I never saw California looking more beautiful," remarked Will Rogers. "The tremendous rains have washed away all the real estate signs."

Well, to tell the truth, most real estate signs do not add much to the charms of the landscape. And other signs usually add still less.

Yet the real estate signs, in California or any other state, have a certain homely merit that excuses them. Where you see them—unless they are very old and dilapidated—they are usually signs of life. The more of them there are cluttering up the scenery, the more property is moving. And they are, at their worst, temporary evils, marking the transition from one kind of beauty to another kind—from natural beauty of field and woods to the ordered beauty and charm of community life, each family in its own pleasant home.

The best pedestrian is the one who either stands still or marches straight ahead.

"We are living in an age of tension," says a moralist. To be specific, an age of extension, pretension and contention.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 17.—That southeasterly section of Manhatton, known as the East Side, has grown a trifle resentful over uplift. It really feels imported idealism from uptown has been worn a little threadbare.

Instead of blazing pistols along Five Points there are now friendly Rotarian thumps on the back. The East Side has boosting organizations megaphoning progress. Bathtubs are no longer used as receptacles for coal nor is garbage kicked around until it disappears.

Few fire escapes are flapping today with wet wash. Columbus Circle has more soap box radicals than may be found the entire length of Rivington and Orchard streets. The picturesque dukes and mayors that ruled the teeming thoroughfares have about lost their sway.

The East Side has not exactly become refined, but it is streaked with a new spirit of self consciousness. The word "slums" is anathema. And even the term "melting pot" brings a flood of epistolary rebukes. The East Side considers itself quite Americanized.

Thin sprays of light do not flicker from gas-jetted bulbs in sunless hallways. There is the glitter of electricity. Even push carts have become rubber tired and white enamled. More than 5,000 residents own their own motor cars. Sabbatical silk hats are common.

Gaudy cabarets and night clubs have supplanted the smelly little cafes featuring lone fiddlers. Ramshackle houses known as Poverty Belt on Ludlow street have suffered application of the pick ax. A skyscraper hotel rears its facade on Delancey street.

There are still squalor, five-to-a-room flats and assorted ordors, but a shining newness is gradually blotting them out. Tides from European ghettos have been checked by immigration laws, and the eminently successful move up town. Hence more room for a bigger and grandier East Side.

Dramatic critics are rarely privileged to remain for the final curtain of opening plays, due to the editorial "dead line" for their copy. Too, a premiere runs late. The method is usually safe for it is rare even a final curtain wallop will save a poor play. Indeed, most critics are so well grounded in their work they can size up a play fairly accurately after seeing the first act. About the only big mistake they ever made was in critical judgment of the "Abie" show.

In many ways 116th street reflects a cultural development superior to any other section of New York. It is near Columbia university. There is no jazz hurrah, but an academic activity that fairly bristles. Greek festival games in which winners are crowned with laurel wreaths, bring eager crowds. Readings and scientific lectures fill big halls. And at International House nearly 1,000 foreign students are housed. Here great economic questions are nightly debated. The entire atmosphere of the neighborhood is bookis, but stimulating. Even the boarding houses are different. They, too, seem to have been gripped by the intellectual stimulus. Soda jerkers often put down their Latin books to fashion a vanilla sundae.

Next to Harry K. Thaw and in an entirely different and eminently respectable manner, of course, Samuel Untermeyer, the corporation lawyer, is said to have achieved more first page space in New York newspapers than any other person. He has been the chief figure in a hundred and one public investigations. During such probes he has had an uncanny knack of scooping up a fresh sensation for every edition.

Natacha Rambova, the former Mrs. Rudolph Valentino, is clicking on high in a Broadway mystery play hit. There are rumors next season will see her in a play written by herself.

Studying Rays.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—A generation ago, or less than four decades, about all that mankind knew about rays, or waves, those mysterious forces of the ether, was limited to the two kinds of rays which he feels the effects at all times—light rays and heat rays. Today science has made man familiar with a long list of rays, made some of them his servants in the performance of modern miracles, and is studying them all with a view to unfolding new marvels.

In studying rays scientists have been led to strange, out-of-the-way places. In order to find the best location from which to conduct a three-years' observation of the sun's heat rays, Dr. C. G. Abbott traveled all over the Eastern Hemisphere, and the National Geographic Society and the Smithsonian Institution now have an expedition on an isolated mountain top in a desert in southwest Africa. When Professor Millikan desired to study the Cosmic ray, which is also known as the Millikan ray, he found it necessary to journey to a crystal clear lake in the high Bolivian Andes, while Professor Michelson in studying the speed of light carried on his experiments near Mt. Wilson, California.

So it is that no one knows from what corner of the earth the next startling revelations about rays may come, and it is wholly a matter of speculation as to what the revelations may be. Scientists themselves in many instances are carrying on their studies without any definite idea as to what their experiments may disclose. They are hunting something but don't know what it is.

As for the ordinary mortal, he is hard put to it to understand even the most rudimentary things about rays, and as a rule adapts himself to the uses of new ray discoveries—such as the radio—without even attempting to understand. Tell him that the Hertzian rays, the longer of which are radio waves, range from 254 to the inch to 18.6 miles in length, and he is likely to give you a blank look and tell you that he "got" Chicago last evening "and that's a good many times 18 miles."

For the benefit of all such, the National Geographic Society has issued a statement that throws real light on the rays—explains them in a way that is graphic as well as lucid. The great gamut that rays run is likened to the keyboard of a gigantic piano on which they are grouped in octaves.

Near the middle of this imaginary keyboard is the best known octave, that of the visible light rays. These rays bathe us continually by day from the sun and by night from electric and other lights. As we go from violet colored light, with the shortest light waves, toward the bass of the keyboard, these rays have longer and longer wave lengths to the red rays, the longest that will illuminate an object and so make it visible.

The next longer waves and all others beyond them toward the bass are invisible. First come the heat rays, and next come the relatively short Hertzian waves for which few uses have been found. When Hertzian waves of 100 meters or more are encountered we have the most widely used radio waves.

Turning toward the treble end of the keyboard we again find none but invisible rays. The first of these, covering about five octaves, are the ultra-violet rays, nearly an octave of them coming from the sun. These sun rays do not illuminate objects, but they make themselves known by tanning and freckling our skin and producing photographic and chemical changes. It takes from 64,000 to 100,000 of them to make an inch.

Beyond the ultra-violet waves that come from the sun are several octaves of other ultra-violet waves that are artificially produced, being radiated when substances are brought to a very great heat. There are more than 1,250,000 of them to the inch, and they merge into and even overlap the next great group, the well-known artificially produced X-rays. Thus a short ultra-violet ray is the same as a long X-ray. For a long time X-rays were the shortest known to exist, the shorter ones running 125,000,000 and more to the inch. These rays are not stopped by ordinary materials, so with them it is possible to make photographs through boards, human flesh, and other objects. They are stopped, however, by a fraction of an inch of lead.

Next come the gamma-rays that are given off by that mysterious element, radium, and might be called naturally produced X-days. It takes more than four billion of the shortest gamma-rays to make one inch, and they will plunge through seven or eight inches of lead before being stopped.

Why Rays Penetrate Matter.

The reason that the shorter rays penetrate matter, according to the National Geographic experts, is supposed to be because the waves are so short in comparison with the molecules of matter and the distances between the molecules that they pass through the spaces just as a breeze passes through a screen. But many thicknesses of screens will stop a breeze, and so a sufficient thickness of matter will stop even the shortest rays.

Until 1925 the gamma-rays of radium were the shortest rays known, but in that year Professor Millikan discovered the Cosmic or Millikan ray. This is the natural ray coming to the earth from outside space, but apparently not from the sun. This ray is almost inconceivably short. It would require more than 630 billions of them to make one inch, and they will pass through more than six feet of lead before being stopped.

Rays may be described broadly though not very satisfactorily, it is stated, as carriers of energy in straight lines from a given source through "empty" space. They may radiate from their source in all directions like pins stuck in a ball, or by artificial means they may be gathered into beams like those of light thrown out by an automobile headlight, or like beams of heat thrown out by a bowl-shaped electric heater.

What might be called the true rays are often spoken of as "waves," because the most generally accepted theory of their nature is the wave theory. They are supposed to be waves in the ether, the "substance" that we assume fills "empty" space between the planets and stars—the same "substance" that fills a vacuum tube when all the air and other gases have been pumped out.

These waves are thought to be like the widening waves made by a pebble dropped into water, first a crest, then a hollow, then another crest, and so on. They are measured from crest to crest. The crest is supposed to be light, the hollow, darkness; but they move so rapidly that the light seems continuous.

This narrower definition which emphasizes the supposed wave form, it is explained, fails to include what are often loosely spoken of as "rays"—the cathode rays of the Coolidge tube and the alpha and beta rays of radium.

Improvement of Narrows

Improvement of the "Narrows," a five-mile strip of the Ohio river highway, which extends from East Liverpool to Cincinnati, a distance of 428 miles, is a foregone conclusion if the state senate approves and the United States congress heeds the suggestion in a resolution introduced at Columbus by State Senator Harry M. Carpenter of Steubenville.

The proposal, which probably will be adopted by the legislature, requests congress to enact such legislation, or amendments to existing laws, as will permit the use of federal funds to the extent of 50 per cent. of the cost of the "Narrows" work as well as the improvement of a 12-mile section of this all-important artery of transportation between Shadyside and Powhatan in Belmont county.

Increased federal aid is urged because the expensive construction, due to the fact that it will be necessary to excavate sandstone bluffs, is too much of a burden upon the state and counties. Without aid from the national treasury it is improbable that the work shall be undertaken.

Need of improvement of the "Narrows" has been frequently cited by the East Liverpool and Wellsville Chambers of Commerce as well as the commissioners of Columbiana and Jefferson counties. And, too, the road has been inspected by Gov. A. V. Donahey and officials of the state highway department who are cognizant of the situation.

Favorable action on the resolution now before the legislature should prove an important factor in getting wide territory served by the "Narrows" out of the mud.

Good 1927

Time are due to be good for almost everybody during the current year, say the Washington forecasters. But there are two exceptions—the farmer and the bituminous miner. The miner may have no income at all after April 1, and the farmer's chances are not so good as everybody wishes they were.

But people who have jobs have better incomes than ever before. An abundance of credit at low rates is made possible by a flood of gold pouring into this country from all over the world. An increasing manufacturing efficiency is resulting in lower prices for many products, which increases the sales. The railroads are able to handle greater volume of goods with less difficulty than ever before.

All these points make for orderly prosperity. Now if the farmer will diversify his crops and increase his co-operative activities enough to keep his head above water until some method appears to give him permanent aid, and if the miners and operators can arrive at some solution of their problems, the country should be a happy place.

The man who overbuys his income, however, is going to be just as miserable as ever. But the man who buys sanely as well as generously has the best chance in the history of the world.

Long-Range Photos

A photographer of the army air service proposes to take a photograph of New Yory City from Rochester, 300 miles away. Or at least, to try. He expects to snap the metropolis from a plane 40,000 feet up in the air. It is pretty clear up that high, as a rule, and one can see for a long distance over the curve of the earth, and there are new cameras and equipment of remarkable range. Experiments at Dayton, O., resulted in fair photographs of scenes 140 miles away.

So the camera already outranges the famous big guns with which the Germans shelled Paris from a safe distance behind their own battle lines. The new range photograph will greatly increase the efficiency of such guns, by showing the gunners the marks they are aiming at and the damage done by their shells. War scouting of all kinds will be greatly aided.

As for civil use, that is another matter. Who wants to have his picture taken without his knowledge, from an invisible airplane somewhere up in the sky 50 or 100 miles away? It will make a person nervous to go outdoors if there are any planes and cameras in the state capable of such spooky work.

WILLARD MACK STORMS CITY IN GREAT PLAY

"Honor Be Damned!" Captivates Ceramic Patrons.

PUNCH AND MORAL

Star, Forced to Make Curtain Speech, Recalls 25 Years Ago.

Willard Mack, whose histrionic ability was recognized a quarter of a century ago when he appeared here in featured roles with Himalins, Sautel and other companies whose names are recalled only by present-day grandmothers, took a large audience by storm at the Ceramic theatre last night in his presentation of a great play from his own pen, "Honor Be Damned!"

So flawless, so realistic and so natural was his delineation of the chief role, John Connell, a successful criminal lawyer, whose cleverness in handling the defense saved guilty men from just punishment, that East Liverpool theatre-goers demanded repeated curtain calls. Finally, in response to their enthusiastic applause, Mack stepped to the footlights and made a speech of appreciation.

"Some of the grandmothers in this audience probably recall my visit here 25 years ago," said the player-author. "I was then supposed to be a featured player. That was the day Chester Devone, whom some of you remember, was a matinee idol. Mr. Devone is now a playwright in New York and doing very well.

"I want to make you one promise. I expect to visit East Liverpool every year, and I pledge that the cast that appears in the large cities will come here.

"I love East Liverpool people, and your reception of our offering tonight has touched my heart. I thank you."

It was one of the few occasions in which a stage star had been forced to make a curtain speech in an East Liverpool theatre, and it was a deserved tribute to a great actor who has surrounded himself with a great cast in the presentation of a great drama.

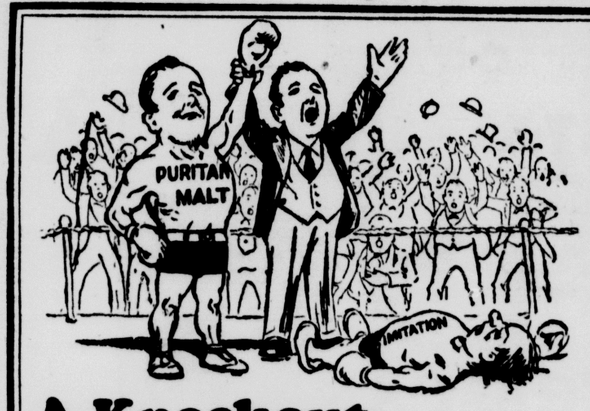

From curtain call in the first act to the dramatic climax in the third act of "Honor Be Damned!" there was not a dull moment. It was replete with comedy, wit and drama, and was staged in a manner that should win the approval of audiences in Philadelphia and other large cities on the itinerary of the Mack production.

Supporting Mack were Lizzie McCall, in the role of Mrs. Connell, his mother; Ruth King, as his sister, Mary Connell, whose talents were especially evidenced by the capable way in which she essayed her difficult role; Beatrice Banyard, as Beebe Dawley; Ethel Gray Terry as Agnes Delrae; William Courtleigh, as "Big" Tom Reynolds; Carl Gerard, as Lou Buckley; George Cleveland, as Sammie Stern; Harry English, as Ted McBride; Thomas F. Tracey, as Phil McGovern, and Huron L. Blyden, as Andrew Roby.

"Honor Be Damned!" is a play with a punch and a moral, and should prove a winner from a box office standpoint as well as a treat for theatre patrons.

Sciatic-Neuritis

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. J. D. Holloway and Mathews Med. Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Some Frank Words on Catarrh

Because catarrh is unpleasant, few like to discuss it. Yet all know its prevalence. Many think "It will go away of itself," and ignore it until finally a chronic catarrhal condition exists.

To endure the constant raising of mucus, the clogged nasal passages, the offensive breath of catarrh is today inexcusable. Thousands have proved that Hall's Catarrh Medicine drives away catarrh because it tones and strengthens the mucous membranes.

When the inflammation of these delicate linings of nose, throat and head is reduced, catarrh vanishes. You owe it to yourself to get Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

WILLARD MACK STORMS CITY IN GREAT PLAY

"Honor Be Damned!" Captivates Ceramic Patrons.

PUNCH AND MORAL

Star, Forced to Make Curtain Speech, Recalls 25 Years Ago.

Willard Mack, whose histrionic ability was recognized a quarter of a century ago when he appeared here in featured roles with Himaline, Sautel and other companies whose names are recalled only by present-day grandmothers, took a large audience by storm at the Ceramic theatre last night in his presentation of a great play from his own pen, "Honor Be Damned!"

So flawless, so realistic and so natural was his delineation of the chief role, John Connell, a successful criminal lawyer, whose cleverness in handling the defense saved guilty men from just punishment, that East Liverpool theatre-goers demanded repeated curtain calls. Finally, in response to their enthusiastic applause, Mack stepped to the footlights and made a speech of appreciation.

"Some of the grandmothers in this audience probably recall my visit here 25 years ago," said the player-author. "I was then supposed to be a featured player. That was the day Chester Devone, whom some of you remember, was a matinee idol. Mr. Devone is now a playwright in New York and doing very well.

"I want to make you one promise. I expect to visit East Liverpool every year, and I pledge that the cast that appears in the large cities will come here.

"I love East Liverpool people, and your reception of our offering tonight has touched my heart. I thank you."

It was one of the few occasions in which a stage star had been forced to make a curtain speech in an East Liverpool theatre, and it was a deserved tribute to a great actor who has surrounded himself with a great cast in the presentation of a great drama.

From curtain call in the first act to the dramatic climax in the third act of "Honor Be Damned!" there was not a dull moment. It was replete with comedy, wit and drama, and was staged in a manner that should win the approval of audiences in Philadelphia and other large cities on the itinerary of the Mack production.

Supporting Mack were Lizzie McCall, in the role of Mrs. Connell, his mother; Ruth King, as his sister, Mary Connell, whose talents were especially evidenced by the capable way in which she essayed her difficult role; Beatrice Banyard, as Beebe Dawley; Ethel Gray Terry as Agnes Delrae; William Courtleigh, as "Big" Tom Reynolds; Carl Gerard, as Lou Buckley; George Cleveland, as Sammie Stern; Harry English, as Ted McBride; Thomas F. Tracey, as Phil McGoveny, and Huron L. Blyden, as Andrew Roby.

"Honor Be Damned!" is a play with a punch and a moral, and should prove a winner from a box office standpoint as well as a treat for theatre patrons.

League Hits Short Skirts.

Distressed by the ground gained by "degenerate Western fashions," a national league has been established in Germany with headquarters in Munich. The slogan is "Abolish low necks, short sleeves and abbreviated dresses," and the league has issued a call upon the women to rally in support of "the true ideals of German womanhood."

Sciatic-Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pains which shoot down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful joints along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. J. D. Holloway and Mathews Med. Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

STRIKE OF OHIO SOFT COAL FIELD MINERS LOOMS

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT AT THEIR PARLEY

Union Men Oppose Any Reduction in Wage Scale.

APRIL 1 IS DAY

Workers Will Use Radio in Organization Work.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Hope of avoidance of a walkout of union miners in the Ohio soft-coal fields April 1, today appeared remote, following the meeting here late yesterday of directors of the Ohio Coal Operators' association.

The operators stood pat on their decision to close their mines at the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement, unless the miners themselves made overtures for a settlement.

Mine union officials have indicated they stand firmly upon the stand taken at the Miami wage conference in which they demanded no reduction in the Jacksonville wage scale.

"We have no quarrel with John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers," said S. H. Robbins, Cleveland, president of the Ohio operators. "But I think he is wrecking his own organization as well as the Ohio coal business by insisting on the Jacksonville wage scale."

The Ohio coal operators pointed out that "it is impossible to continue operations under the Jacksonville wage scale, owing to rapidly declining production."

They assert that the agreement consummated in the central Pennsylvania field recently, was under entirely different conditions than those now prevalent in the Ohio field. The central Pennsylvania field has a separate wage scale and a separate agreement, and is not a part of the Central competitive field to which Ohio belongs.

In an endeavor to meet the "greatest crisis in the history of their union," the Ohio miners are planning to unionize the West Virginia and Kentucky fields. This plan was decided upon after a court injunction stopped distribution of union propaganda in the non-union field.

STANDARD OIL in the last three months has paid dividends of more than $55,000,000. That's at the rate of more than 5 per cent on $4,000,000,000; so there is a $4,000,000,000 concern right there.

If you wait a few years it will be a $10,000,000,000 concern. But, as you know, Mr. Rockefeller doesn't own all of it, or even half of it.

A great deal of Standard Oil prosperity, by the way, has been achieved in a market of hard competition by intelligent newspaper advertising. It is to be hoped the able managers know that, and realize that it pays to talk directly to the people through daily newspaper advertising. This writer, by the way, hasn't one dollar's interest in any newspaper advertising, anywhere.

Donahey Vetoes Bills

and license real estate brokers and salesmen.

Carpenter Resolution Adopted.

Because of a tie vote, the Republican senators, in caucus late Wednesday, failed to endorse the proposed gasoline tax increase, but agreed to discuss the proposal at another caucus to be held next Tuesday at which time, also, consideration will be given to the proposed amusement tax.

Both senate and house Republicans have agreed upon the excise and franchise tax increases and have endorsed provisions of the Orton bill, recodifying laws, which relieve counties and townships from assessment for construction and maintenance of state roads.

The senate adopted a resolution, by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, asking congress to provide that the federal government shall pay half the cost of completing construction of the Ohio river road which is part of the Atlantic and Pacific Federal highway. It is proposed to complete highway construction between Shadesville and Powhatan a distance of 12 miles at an estimated cost of more than $800,00 and between Stratton and Wellsville, about five miles.

The Price bill, providing for changing boundary lines of Ohio congressional districts, has been recommitted to the senate federal relations committee.

ZANESVILLE, O., March 17. — The first heat prostration of the season in Ohio was recorded here today, when Ralph Aprou, 33, collapsed while at his work in the Kearns-Gorsuch company plant this morning. Physicians said that it was the earliest heat prostration case on record in Ohio. Aprou was working in a warm room, it was said, but not near the furnaces of the glass factory. He was taken to a hospital for treatment.

The temperature ranged around 60 here this morning with extremely high humidity, and indications of thunderstorms.

Sinclair, Facing Jail Term, Prepares To Appeal Case

Millionaire Oil Man Found Guilty on Four Counts Charging Contempt of U. S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Convicted on four counts charging contempt of the United States senate, Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, resumed business from his hotel desk today while his attorneys perfected their appeal to a higher court.

A jury in the supreme court of the District of Columbia found the oil man guilty last night after deliberating eight hours and ten minutes. The law carries a mandatory penalty of one month to one year in the District of Columbia jail and a fine of $100 to $1,000. Sentence will be pronounced by Justice William Hitz, who presided at the trial, within four days, or as soon as the defense attorneys have prepared their appeal to carry the case to the district court of appeals. Sinclair's counsel have asserted they will fight the case to the United States supreme court.

Sinclair's conviction is the first on record in federal courts for contempt of the senate since 1896. The case grew out of his refusal to answer certain questions before the senate oil committee, on March 22, 1924, bearing upon his negotiations with Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall for the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve lease of April 7, 1922.

Fifteen Ballots Required.

Fifteen ballots were required to bring about the verdict in the jury room, with the count standing 11 to 1 for conviction, from the first to the fourteenth. The conviction emphatically affirms the hitherto challenged right of the senate to force testimony from reluctant witnesses. The case doubtless will become a precendent in all similar proceedings, particularly that now shaping on the refusal of Samuel Insull, Illinois public utility magnate, to answer some of the questions of the Reed campaign fund investigating committee.

Justice Hitz, in his instructions, confined the jurors to a consideration of four basic facts—was Sinclair summoned before the committee, did he appear, was he sworn, and did he refuse to answer certain questions? These facts were admitted by both sides from the outset. The defense was almost entirely upon technical grounds challenging the authority of the committee to ask the unanswered questions, and attacking the pertinency of the questions.

A second criminal proceeding growing out of the Teapot Dome leasing is set for trial in the district supreme court April 25, when Sinclair and Fall are to be tried for conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing negotiations.

Reed Gets Spotlight

the prime of his career. He was 40 years old. He had a right to expect to advance in his profession without any unwarranted attacks being made on him by any individual. We will prove that these attacks were made. We will ask you then to fix the amount of damage done to him by these unwarranted attacks."

Gallagher closed with this declaration, his argument having lasted ten minutes.

Reed Smiles On Jury.

Then Reed arose. He smiled on the jury. He spoke quietly.

"This is a case between Aaron Sapiro and Henry Ford," said Reed.

"This is not the case of the Hebrew race against Henry Ford and the Dearborn publishing company. I think his honor will tell you that the Hebrew race is not bringing this suit. Mr. Sapiro cannot come here and collect money for damages done the Hebrew race and then put that money in his pocket."

A golden dream of wealth and empire inspired Sapiro, so-called "wheat king," to seek control of American agriculture through a nation-wide series of cooperative associations, Reed charged.

The fiery Missourian branded Sapiro as a greedy dreamer, who organized farmers into associations to their loss and his own profit.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 17.—Cheap money and aggressive pool activity was Wall street's explanation for the exuberant buying of the industrial speculative favorites which swept prices forward to new high levels in the early trading today.

United States Steel, General Motors and American Telephone and Telegraph were the leaders in this movement, but the telegraph stock dropped out after the president of the company flatly denied that stock split-ups or reorganization of any kind was contemplated. The stock sold at 168 at the opening, with a block of 2,000 shares.

Wall street heard that Durant, Whelan and other powerful speculative operators had formed a new pool to boost U. S. Steel to 175 for the old stock and 125 for the W. I. new stock, in anticipation of the inauguration of 7 per cent dividends on the stock when authorized by stockholders next month. Meanwhile, the steel corporation was reported operating at 88 per cent of ingot capacity, an increase of 2 per cent over last week.

General Motors sold above 179 in an enormous volume of trading as steel common was pushed to 164¼, both record high prices.

The pace of the market was "fast and furious" in this period, with blocks of 500 to 5,000 share sales reported on the tape. A few of the rail road shares participated in the move, the list including Delaware Lackawanna, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. Oils held firmly in the face of further price cutting in retail gasoline and the weak market for wholesale gasoline in Chicago.

Call money advanced to 4 per cent against yesterday's close at 3 1-2. Commodity markets were steady, with wheat and cotton slightly lower.

Heard in Diamond Cafe

"What kind o' pie y' got?"

"Apple, gooseberry, custard, raisin, cocoanut, pumpkin, peach, apricot, chocolate, blueberry, raspberry, blackberry and cream."

"Ain't y' got mince?"

A friend of ours who is something of a shark at mathematics came in here the other evening and asked us to help him trisect a triangle. We cleared our throat and tried to appear interested. Then he slipped the information to us that this is a problem that nobody has ever been able to solve. We've been so blamed busy around the place here that we haven't been able to give the thing much time. Maybe next summer we'll trisect it for him. In the meantime, we suggest that he go right ahead and try to get it himself. He'll remember it better that way.

An East Liverpool business man received a payment on account the other day and a letter which said, "Please tell me how I stand in the rear."

Yesterday a friend of ours told us his wife wasn't feeling very well. "Guess I'd better call her up and see how she is," he said and took the phone. Pretty soon he put the receiver up. "She's all right now. The line's busy."

Everything in doors and windows can be furnished promptly through our establishment. We have stock designs or we can order anything you want.

Sometimes the old house just naturally has to expand. You can make the extra rooms at low cost by partitioning with Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard. Sheetrock, which we sell and recommend most heartily, is made of pure gypsum rock, in great, broad sheets. Saws and nails like lumber. Decorates perfectly (all joints concealed.) STRIKE OF OHIO SOFT COAL FIELD MINERS LOOMS

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT AT THEIR PARLEY

Union Men Oppose Any Reduction in Wage Scale.

APRIL 1 IS DAY

Workers Will Use Radio in Organization Work.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Hope of avoidance of a walkout of union miners in the Ohio soft-coal fields April 1, today appeared remote, following the meeting here late yesterday of directors of the Ohio Coal Operators' association.

The operators stood pat on their decision to close their mines at the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement, unless the miners themselves made overtures for a settlement.

Mine union officials have indicated they stand firmly upon the stand taken at the Miami wage conference in which they demanded no reduction in the Jacksonville wage scale.

"We have no quarrel with John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers," said S. H. Robbins, Cleveland, president of the Ohio operators. "But I think he is wrecking his own organization as well as the Ohio coal business by insisting on the Jacksonville wage scale."

The Ohio coal operators pointed out that "it is impossible to continue operations under the Jacksonville wage scale, owing to rapidly declining production."

They assert that the agreement consummated in the central Pennsylvania field recently, was under entirely different conditions than those now prevalent in the Ohio field. The central Pennsylvania field has a separate wage scale and a separate agreement, and is not a part of the Central competitive field to which Ohio belongs.

In an endeavor to meet the "greatest crisis in the history of their union," the Ohio miners are planning to use the radio in an attempt to unionize the West Virginia and Kentucky fields. This plan was decided upon after a court injunction stopped distribution of union propaganda in the non-union field.

New York institution, as the Pacific compares with the Atlantic.

As New York on the big Atlantic exceeds in trade Venice of old on the little Mediterranean, so will the western coast one day, on the great Pacific, excel the cities on the small Atlantic.

Any rich man desiring an opening for an ambitious son-in-law should try to get him one of those Seattle stock exchange seats. Apply to Dietrich G. Schmitz, of the Seattle National Bank of Commerce.

There, in Seattle, is a chance now to lay the foundation of a fortune beyond the dreams of avarice, if your temperament can stand the wear and tear of stock exchange work and resist the temptation to gamble.

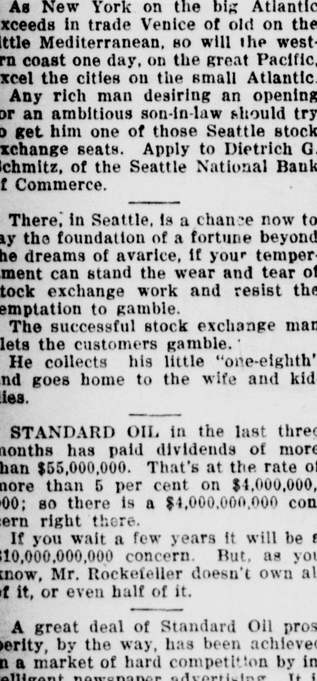

The successful stock exchange man "lets the customers gamble."

He collects his little "one-eighth" and goes home to the wife and kiddies.

STANDARD OIL in the last three months has paid dividends of more than $55,000,000. That's at the rate of more than 5 per cent on $4,000,000,000; so there is a $4,000,000,000 concern right there.

If you wait a few years it will be a $10,000,000,000 concern. But, as you know, Mr. Rockefeller doesn't own all of it, or even half of it.

A great deal of Standard Oil prosperity, by the way, has been achieved in a market of hard competition by intelligent newspaper advertising. It is to be hoped the able managers know that, and realize that it pays to talk directly to the people through daily newspaper advertising. This writer, by the way, hasn't one dollar's interest in any newspaper advertising, anywhere.

The Shamrock

Says Valour, "See,
"They spring for me,
"Those leafy gems of morning!"—
Says Love, "No, no,
"For me they grow,
"My fragrant path adorning."

But Wit perceives
The triple leaves,
And cries, "Oh! do not sever
"A type, that blends
"Three godlike friends,
"Love, Valour, Wit, for ever!"
Oh the Shamrock, the green, immortal Shamrock!
Chosen leaf
Of Bard and Chief,
Old Erin's native Shamrock!

May Valour ne'er
His standard rear
Against the cause of Freedom!
Oh the Shamrock, the green, immortal Shamrock!
Chosen leaf
Of Bard and Chief,
Old Erin's native Shamrock!

Carpenter Resolution Adopted.

Because of a tie vote, the Republican senators, in caucus late Wednesday, failed to endorse the proposed gasoline tax increase, but agreed to discuss the proposal at another caucus to be held next Tuesday at which time, also, consideration will be given to the proposed amusement tax.

Both senate and house Republicans have agreed upon the excise and franchise tax increases and have endorsed provisions of the Orton bill, recodifying laws, which relieve counties and townships from assessment for construction and maintenance of state roads.

The senate adopted a resolution, by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, asking congress to provide that the federal government shall pay half the cost of completing construction of the Ohio river road which is part of the Atlantic and Pacific Federal highway. It is proposed to complete highway construction between Shadesville and Powhatan a distance of 12 miles at an estimated cost of more than $800,00 and between Stratton and Wellsville, about five miles.

The Price bill, providing for changing boundary lines of Ohio congressional districts, has been recommitted to the senate federal relations committee.

Zanesville Man Is Season's First Heat Prostration

ZANESVILLE, O., March 17. — The first heat prostration of the season in Ohio was recorded here today, when Ralph Aprou, 33, collapsed while at his work in the Kearns-Gorsuch company plant this morning. Physicians said that it was the earliest heat prostration case on record in Ohio. Aprou was working in a warm room, it was said, but not near the furnaces of the glass factory. He was taken to a hospital for treatment.

The temperature ranged around 60 here this morning with extremely high humidity, and indications of thunderstorms.

BON TON STORE IS REMODELED

New Equipment for Dresden Avenue Establishment.

Bon Ton Store, Dresden avenue, near the Diamond, has been remodeled, redecorated and refurnished.

Dustproof show cases, new floor coverings, window drapes and other equipment have been installed. The usual line of dry goods has been dropped, the establishment now dealing in ladies' and children's ready-to-wear garments and silk hose.

The Bon Ton was established in East Liverpool by Sol Whit, now of Philadelphia, 35 years ago. The store's first location was in the Altman building, Diamond. Later it occupied a room in the Brookes building, Market street. From that point it moved to the Hodson building, Washington street. Four years ago it took charge of the Dresden avenue location.

Whit retired from the company several years ago. The store is owned by Gus Rickersburg and his wife, formerly Belle Whit, a sister of the original owner.

Sinclair, Facing Jail Term, Prepares To Appeal Case

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Convicted on four counts charging contempt of the United States senate, Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, resumed business from his hotel desk today while his attorneys perfected their appeal to a higher court.

A jury in the supreme court of the District of Columbia found the oil man guilty last night after deliberating eight hours and ten minutes. The law carries a mandatory penalty of one month to one year in the District of Columbia jail and a fine of $100 to $1,000. Sentence will be pronounced by Justice William Hitz, who presided at the trial, within four days, or as soon as the defense attorneys have prepared their appeal to carry the case to the district court of appeals. Sinclair's counsel have asserted they will fight the case to the United States supreme court.

Sinclair's conviction is the first on record in federal courts for contempt of the senate since 1896. The case grew out of his refusal to answer certain questions before the senate oil committee, on March 22, 1924, bearing upon his negotiations with Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall for the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve lease of April 7, 1922.

Fifteen Ballots Required.

Fifteen ballots were required to bring about the verdict in the jury room, with the count standing 11 to 1 for conviction, from the first to the fourteenth. The conviction emphatically affirms the hitherto challenged right of the senate to force testimony from reluctant witnesses. The case doubtless will become a precendent in all similar proceedings, particularly that now shaping on the refusal of Samuel Insull, Illinois public utility magnate, to answer some of the questions of the Reed campaign fund investigating committee.

Justice Hitz, in his instructions, confined the jurors to a consideration of four basic facts—was Sinclair summoned before the committee, did he appear, was he sworn, and did he refuse to answer certain questions? These facts were admitted by both sides from the outset. The defense was almost entirely upon technical grounds challenging the authority of the committee to ask the unanswered questions, and attacking the pertinency of the questions.

A second criminal proceeding growing out of the Teapot Dome leasing is set for trial in the district supreme court April 25, when Sinclair and Fall are to be tried for conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing negotiations.

the prime of his career. He was 40 years old. He had a right to expect to advance in his profession without any unwarranted attacks being made on him by any individual. We will prove that these attacks were made. We will ask you then to fix the amount of damage done to him by these unwarranted attacks."

Gallagher closed with this declaration, his argument having lasted ten minutes.

Reed Smiles On Jury.

Then Reed arose. He smiled on the jury. He spoke quietly.

"This is a case between Aaron Sapiro and Henry Ford," said Reed.

"This is not the case of the Hebrew race against Henry Ford and the Dearborn publishing company. I think his honor will tell you that the Hebrew race is not bringing this suit. Mr. Sapiro cannot come here and collect money for damages done the Hebrew race and then put that money in his pocket."

A golden dream of wealth and empire inspired Sapiro, so-called "wheat king," to seek control of American agriculture through a nation-wide series of cooperative associations, Reed charged.

The fiery Missourian branded Sapiro as a greedy dreamer, who organized farmers into associations to their loss and his own profit.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 17.—Cheap money and aggressive pool activity was Wall street's explanation for the exuberant buying of the industrial speculative favorites which swept prices forward to new high levels in the early trading today.

United States Steel, General Motors and American Telephone and Telegraph were the leaders in this movement, but the telegraph stock dropped out after the president of the company flatly denied that stock split-ups or reorganization of any kind was contemplated. The stock sold at 168 at the opening, with a block of 2,000 shares.

Wall street heard that Durant, Whelan and other powerful speculative operators had formed a new pool to boost U. S. Steel to 175 for the old stock and 125 for the W. I. new stock, in anticipation of the inauguration of 7 per cent dividends on the stock when authorized by stockholders next month. Meanwhile, the steel corporation was reported operating at 88 per cent of ingot capacity, an increase of 2 per cent over last week.

General Motors sold above 179 in an enormous volume of trading as steel common was pushed to 164¼, both record high prices.

The pace of the market was "fast and furious" in this period, with blocks of 500 to 5,000-share sales reported on the tape. A few of the rail road shares participated in the move, the list including Delaware Lackawanna, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. Oils held firmly in the face of further price cutting in retail gasoline and the weak market for wholesale gasoline in Chicago.

Call money advanced to 4 per cent against yesterday's close at 3 1-2. Commodity markets were steady, with wheat and cotton slightly lower.

THE BUCKEYE NEWS

NO. 12. MARCH 17, 1927. VOL. 1.

The next real big event on our calendar is St. Patrick's Day. 'Rah for the Irish!

Heard in Diamond Cafe

"What kind o' pie y' got?"

"Apple, gooseberry, custard, raisin, cocoanut, pumpkin, peach, apricot, chocolate, blueberry, raspberry, blackberry and cream."

"Ain't y' got mince?"

A friend of ours who is something of a shark at mathematics came in here the other evening and asked us to help him trisect a triangle. We cleared our throat and tried to appear interested. Then he slipped the information to us that this is a problem that nobody has ever been able to solve. We've been so blamed busy around the place here that we haven't been able to give the thing much time. Maybe next summer we'll trisect it for him. In the meantime, we suggest that he go right ahead and try to get it himself. He'll remember it better that way.

An East Liverpool business man received a payment on account the other day and a letter which said, "Please tell me how I stand in the rear."

Yesterday a friend of ours told us his wife wasn't feeling very well. "Guess I'd better call her up and see how she is," he said and took the phone. Pretty soon he put the receiver up. "She's all right now. The line's busy."

Everything in doors and windows can be furnished promptly through our establishment. We have stock designs or we can order anything you want.

Sometimes the old house just naturally has to expand. You can make the extra rooms at low cost by partitioning with Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard. Sheetrock, which we sell and recommend most heartily, is made of pure gypsum rock, in great, broad sheets. Saws and nails like lumber. Decorates perfectly (all joints concealed.) Let us show you a sample and estimate for you.

White Stag Causes Fears.

Country people in the vicinity of Chipstable, England, are in a state of fear because of the appearance of a white stag in that neighborhood. They believe that the coming of the rare specimen of deer is a forerunner of disaster. The animal is four feet high and, judging by the antlers, is six years old. Many who have seen it say that it is pure white even to the antlers.

Dines Chickens; Is the Goat.

Tucking $75 into her apron pocket, a farmer's wife of Baden, Germany, went out to feed the chickens. Her task completed she found that the notes had been eaten by a goat while she was busy. And, the correspondent adds, the good frau said more in the next three minutes than she could have done for $75 over the trans-Atlantic telephone service.

LEGISLATURE IS DOWN TO GRIND

Routine Matters Taken Up at Opening Session Yesterday.

Long session of the legislature opened yesterday at Charleston with the principal business devoted to clearing out of the way some formidable routine that had threatened to engross attention to the detriment of legislative work.

Pending impeachment trial of former State Auditor John C. Bond melted away with the adjournment of the senate court of impeachment because Bond resigned from office Tuesday. The senate also made short work of a contest looming over one of its seats by refusing to receive the contest petition.

Former Senator Clyde B. Johnson, Democrat, sought to contest the seat to which Senator Walter S. Hallanan, Republican, had been elected with a narrow margin in the eighth district. When his petition came before the senate, a question as to whether it had been filed within the legal time limit was raised and for a time it was understood that this was made a point of order on which President M. Z. White would have to rule. This was later declared to be a misunderstanding and a 20 to 8 vote along party lines marked the refusal to receive the petition.

Meanwhile the house of delegates received a report by the speaker on expenditures of the house to date, showing a grand total of $21,149. Of this $1,214 was before the legislature met, $9,035 during the initial session, and $10,899 in the interim, the speaker explaining that more than $3,400 of this was for postage and mailing of bills and journals.

The first bill through the adjourned session was a local measure validating some district road bonds in Wetzel county, suspension of the rules making possible its passage by both senate and house yesterday. Speaker Johnson appealed to the house committees to report out to the house as many as possible of local measures early in the session, giving prospect that the next few days would see many of these measures out of the way. Meantime two delegates presented resolutions which if adopted would permit introduction of two more local measures, one affecting the Mannington charter and the other a Mason county road fund.

Another resolution, introduced by Delegate Cooper, of Webster county, discoursed in its preamble on disastrous fires to state buildings in Charleston and suggested locating the capitol at Webster Springs.

LANSING, MICH., MAN HELD FOR OHIO MURDER

Arrested in Cleveland for Killing of Taxi Driver.

"WENT STRAIGHT"

Claims he Paid "Hush Money" to Wife and Police.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Said to be known in Lansing, Mich., as A. G. Gordon, a man booked by local detectives as Charles O'Malley, is being held today for the killing of James Graham, a taxi driver, here seven years ago.

Graham was shot and killed in October, 1920, and until recently the crime had been listed as an "unsolved murder."

Gordon, alias O'Malley, was arrested a week ago in Detroit, following a tip to police, said to have come from his estranged wife. For the past three years, police say, he has been "going straight."

According to Gordon's story, he left his wife immediately following the shooting. He claims he has paid "hush money" ever since, to his wife and also to Toledo and Detroit police. He found employment in Lansing as an auto salesman and gained rapid promotion.

Several weeks ago, he says, he "tired of paying further blackmail," and decided to quit it. His arrest soon followed.

He is expected to be indicted shortly.

Negotiations For County League Title Series Deadlocked

Managers Fail To Reach Agreement At Salem Parley

Games With Midland Collegians will be Booked in Event Series With Damascus Fails to Materialize; Elks Lose at Salem, 30-17.

Negotiations with the Damascus club, first half champions of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball League, for the final play-off to determine the season's championship, which were launched last night by Manager Ray Adam, of the East Liverpool Elks, second half title winners, had failed to reach a satisfactory conclusion when the managerial conference concluded last night after a half-hour's debate.

Although no definite agreement on anything was reached, indications today pointed to a suspension of the series, in which event the Elks will claim the championship. No formal announcement of the result of the conference was issued by the managers but league followers are inclined to the belief that the old eligibility question again is bobbing up.

Unless Manager Bye, of Damascus and Manager Adam, of the Elks, get together today, the latter, it was indicated, will immediately start arrangements with the Midland Collegians, who have been setting a fast pace in independent basketball in western Pennsylvania this winter, for a series of probably three games.

The Midland series has been under consideration for several weeks but no action on the proposal was taken pending the disposition of the Columbiana county league title series.

Losing, 30 to 17, to the Salem Mullins club, which was out on the floor in all its strength and power, the Elks last night wound up their regular league season at Salem, with a record of 20 victories out of 24, exclusive of the first half play-off with Damascus.

The Antlers started the first half with a defeat and wound up with a defeat; they began the second half with a defeat and they finished with a defeat; but how they did play in between!

Coach Bill Powell's passers hung up 12 straight victories in the first half and eight consecutive wins in the second.

Last night the Mullins club threw their full resources against the Antlers and succeeded in copping the contest in a last half splurge of field goals, with the Elks doing some of the most atrocious shooting of the season.

The local club lacked the speed and fire of Ray Wilde more than anything else and at the same time realized that the result would have no bearing on the title.

Wilde was obliged to keep a banquet date last night, and being unusually fond of large, green olives, took the night off, inasmuch as victory was not important.

In his shoes Joe Canne, who climbed out of a sick bed Monday and who really was not in proper condition to go through a gruelling physical contest such as the Mullins team is capable of giving any squad, played a great game.

Dave Shupe performed at forward and all over the court. Besides figuring as an important factor in the defense, he led scorers of both teams with four field goals and three fouls for a total of 11 points. Only one other man in the game, Sidinger, of Salem, caged as many field goals as Shupe.

The lodge marksmanship on the whole, thought, was very low. They rained the ball off the banking board throughout the entire game.

Anderson and McConville played marvelous ball at the guards throughout the game, the former coming up the floor for a couple of field goals.

Carl Wilson was in action the last half at a forward post, along with Tom Pusey and their floor work was unimpeachable.

The Elks led, 7 to 6, at the end of the first period, but fell by the wayside in the second quarter, the half ending with the count of 13 to 9. Salem remained in the lead in the third canto, when the count was 20 to 15, and then stepped out to make it 30 while the locals were getting two in the wind-up paragraph.

Bachelors and Benedicts Draw, 20-20, In Annual Court Battle

Contest Goes 10 Rounds, With Everybody Groggy, But Still on Their Feet, at the Bell.

After ten fast and furious rounds at the high school last night, the H. L. Smith Newsstand Married and the Single Men's basketball teams, as they humorously called themselves, were awarded a 20 to 20 draw by Referee Bill Watkins.

In one respect the exhibition differed from the regular Marquis of Queensbury performance. No one wore gloves. This was one of the big features. Others included strangle holds that would have made Ed Lewis, himself, jealous, and end runs that would send Red Grange and Jim Thorpe back to the bushes.

However, by way of diversion and in order to make the game appear "as advertised," some field goals were made. There were no fouls—called.

The affair was played in three-minute rounds. For the opening rounds the Bachelors had all the best of the milling but the Married Men, as a result of years of experience that have developed a wonderful stamina and ability for taking punishment, came through in the closing periods to tie up the count.

And no small part of the entire proceedings was the announcing of "Cheese" Aldridge prior to hostilities.

Heckathorne, southpaw of the Bachelors, landed the first telling blows with a basket from scrimmage and the Batches continued to pile up points until the count was 14 to six at the end of the sixth round.

The crowd for the closing rounds saw the Bennies wage an uphill battle with McConville, Coleman, Mundy and Merchant tossing in the field goals that gave them a tie.

Mundy and Coleman were the stars for the Married Men and Bloor, Heckathorne and Gerace enacted similar roles for the Bachelors. All others saw stars.

Giants Irritated By Roush's Tactics

Team in General Exercised Over Ex-Red's Hold-out; McGraw Thinks Well of Club's Chances.

By Davis J. Walsh.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17.—Who is the dumbest guy on the Giants ball club?

This is neither an impertinent nor personal question because the Giants themselves, playing this end of the grape fruit circuit today, really would like to know. According to members of rival teams with whom the writer talked, so many Giants have nominated other players with the outfit for this doubtful distinction that it is fast becoming apparent that most of them are very dumb or all of them are very mistaken.

This condition, plus a general irritation against Ed Roush for his failure to join the club when offered a $20,000 contract, would seem to indicate that a disquieting condition is developing in the Giants' camp.

However, Manager John McGraw has another story to tell.

"It's not the best club that ever was organized," he said. "It has its little weaknesses here and there, which I don't care to elaborate upon. All I want to say is that I have a smarter, faster club than last year, with more punch and a sounder defense, and I think it is good enough to win.

Cubs Possible Contender.

"The other contenders? Well, you must figure the Cardinals, Pirates and Reds, for one thing, and the Cubs will be dangerous. In fact, they may turn out to be the team we will have to beat. Anyway I'll say that the club that wins the pennant will have to beat us."

McGraw declined to comment in any way on Roush's absence from the camp but his intimates made no secret of the fact that John has taken great umbrage over the matter, as has indeed the team in general. Roush, they say, has been offered $20,000 for the season as compared with the $19,000 he wanted from the Reds; yet, he has ignored both the offer and the man who made it.

Of course, like a drug clerk who hasn't what you want, the ball club doesn't live that doesn't have "something just as good" with which to forget an absent star. The something in this case is Melvin Ott, the 17-year-old catcher of last year who is the 18-year-old centerfielder this year. They say that Ott will be in the lineup every day by the first of June, Roush or no Roush.

The Giants have plenty of outfielders in camp but not all of them are good. In fact, the writer would venture to say that it is an open question whether the club is as strong as it was last year.

Weakened at First Base.

It has been weakened, beyond all doubt, at first base where Terry will appear instead of the departed Kelly. It is stronger at second because with the uncertain Frisch replaced by Rogers Hornsby, who looks slower to me although he is hitting well and obviously is saving himself. However, the loss of Ross Young in right field would hurt any club and the Giants are no exception. Further than that a club with three untried catchers making up the entire staff of receivers is not exactly any man's certainty.

Except for Burleigh Grimes, the human salivary gland, the pitchers will be the same as last year. Kent Greenfield, always a slow starter, will be pitching good baseball by the first of June; Hugh McQuillan, always a rapid starter, is being prevailed upon to do nothing at this stage and he likes it; Fred Fitzsimmons started well but stopped when he hurt his hand by carelessly leaving it under the rocker of a chair; Virgil Barnes was a good pitcher last year and still is; Jack Bentley is back again without his convolutions but nobody has noticed the difference, and Dutch Henry, the southpaw who was tried and found guilty before, is up again from Indianapolis and this time he will stay.

Three Untried Catchers.

The rising young men include Bill Clarkson, the Raleigh, N. C., specimen, who returns from Toledo a reconditioned buy and they say a permanent one; Fay Thomas, University of Southern California man who also is touted to stay, and Louis Almada, an eighteen-year-old Mexican left-hander, who probably will go away and come back. Howard Holland, University of Virginia product, also is around but nobody knows how long.

The three untried catchers include Al De Vormer, the lad who dived into Lake Michigan, fully clothed, to win $10, while a member of the Yankees; Jack Cummings, up from Wheeling, W. Va., with an injured hand but another Schalk, according to McGraw, and Sanford Hamby, Portsmouth, Va., who either will do or won't, according to the way the coin falls. One Castro, of Cuba, also is about the premises but he is going to George Burns at Williamsport, Pa.

The infield, as everyone knows will be Terry, Hornsby, Jackson and Lindstrom, with Eddie Farrell as utility man, with Eddie Farrell, Andy Cohen, sent to Buffalo with a recall option exerciseable on twenty-four hours notice; and Andy Reese, up from Memphis and Bentley ready to relieve Terry at first base. Reese also may alternate with George Harper, ex-Phillie, in right field, McGraw having determined to use an alternating outfield against right and left hand pitching. Among those who will be permitted to be available are Roush, "Bevo" Le Bourveau, back from the American association and proving himself to be a fine hitter; Al Tyson, once of Louisville; Harper, Reese and the callow Mr. Ott. Heine Mueller, ex-Cardinal, still is here but lots of things can happen and probably will. "Tex" Jeanes, ex-Senator, seems to be in the same boat as Mueller.

BILLY MAJORS NEAR DEATH

Famous Ohio Track Figure Critically Ill in Mansfield.

MANSFIELD, O., March 17.—"Billy" Majors, picturesque figure on the race tracks of Ohio and surrounding states for nearly half a century, is near death at his home here today, physicians announced. Majors, who is 65, and the oldest racing trainer and driver in the state, is suffering from a complication of diseases following an attack of influenza. Little hope is held out for his recovery, doctors said, although there has been no appreciable change in his condition during the past several days.

Majors began his career 48 years ago, when at the age of 17, he drove his first race on the old Hiawatha track, at Mount Vernon. From that day, he has figured actively in racing circles, training hundreds of horses, and driving many famous races. He has trained and driven for former Congressman Winfield Scott Kerr, and for Myers S. Cooper, of Cincinnati.

Among the more famous horses which Majors has piloted to victory on Ohio tracks are "Miss Rejected," 2:02 1-4; "Lady Pites," 2:02 1-4; and "Happy the Great," a promising animal which he developed and trained recently, which he owns.

For the opening rounds the Bachelors had all the best of the milling but the Married Men, as a result of years of experience that have developed a wonderful stamina and ability for taking punishment, came through in the closing periods to tie up the count.

And no small part of the entire proceedings was the announcing of "Cheese" Aldridge prior to hostilities.

Heckathorne, southpaw of the Bachelors, landed the first telling blows with a basket from scrimmage and the Batches continued to pile up points until the count was 14 to six at the end of the sixth round.

The crowd for the closing rounds saw the Bennies wage an uphill battle with McConville, Coleman, Mundy and Merchant tossing in the field goals that gave them a tie.

Mundy and Coleman were the stars for the Married Men and Bloor, Heckathorne and Gerace enacted similar roles for the Bachelors. All others saw stars.

Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, has signed Outfielder Bob Meusel to a two year contract, he declares that Herb Pennock can "hold out for life" before the club will meet his salary demands. The star southpaw is said to be asking $20,000 a year for two years.

Giants Lose to Braves.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 17.—The New York Giants were not quite so cockey today as a result of their 4 to 3 defeat by the Boston Braves. Rogers Hornsby was the leading hitter with three bingles, while Ott, youthful Giant outfielder, continued his sensational batting with a triple and a single.

Giants Irritated By Roush's Tactics

Team in General Exercised Over Ex-Red's Hold-out; McGraw Thinks Well of Club's Chances.

By Davis J. Walsh.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17.—Who is the dumbest guy on the Giants ball club?

This is neither an impertinent nor personal question because the Giants themselves, playing this end of the grape fruit circuit today, really would like to know. According to members of rival teams with whom the writer talked, so many Giants have nominated other players with the outfit for this doubtful distinction that it is fast becoming apparent that most of them are very dumb or all of them are very mistaken.

This condition, plus a general irritation against Ed Roush for his failure to join the club when offered a $20,000 contract, would seem to indicate that a disquieting condition is developing in the Giants' camp.

However, Manager John McGraw has another story to tell.

"It's not the best club that ever was organized," he said. "It has its little weaknesses here and there, which I don't care to elaborate upon. All I want to say is that I have a smarter, faster club than last year, with more punch and a sounder defense, and I think it is good enough to win.

Cubs Possible Contender.

"The other contenders? Well, you must figure the Cardinals, Pirates and Reds, for one thing, and the Cubs will be dangerous. In fact, they may turn out to be the team we will have to beat. Anyway I'll say that the club that wins the pennant will have to beat us."

McGraw declined to comment in any way on Roush's absence from the camp but his intimates made no secret of the fact that John has taken great umbrage over the matter, as has indeed the team in general. Roush, they say, has been offered $20,000 for the season as compared with the $19,000 he wanted from the Reds; yet, he has ignored both the offer and the man who made it.

Of course, like a drug clerk who hasn't what you want, the ball club doesn't live that doesn't have "something just as good" with which to forget an absent star. The something in this case is Melvin Ott, the 17-year-old catcher of last year who is the 18-year-old centerfielder this year. They say that Ott will be in the lineup every day by the first of June, Roush or no Roush.

The Giants have plenty of outfielders in camp but not all of them are good. In fact, the writer would venture to say that it is an open question whether the club is as strong as it was last year.

Weakened at First Base.

It has been weakened, beyond all doubt, at first base where Terry will appear instead of the departed Kelly. It is stronger at second because with the uncertain Frisch replaced by Rogers Hornsby, who looks slower to me although he is hitting well and obviously is saving himself. However, the loss of Ross Young in right field would hurt any club and the Giants are no exception. Further than that a club with three untried catchers making up the entire staff of receivers is not exactly any man's certainty.

Except for Burleigh Grimes, the human salivary gland, the pitchers will be the same as last year. Kent Greenfield, always a slow starter, will be pitching good baseball by the first of June; Hugh McQuillan, always a rapid starter, is being prevailed upon to do nothing at this stage and he likes it; Fred Fitzsimmons started well but stopped when he hurt his hand by carelessly leaving it under the rocker of a chair; Virgil Barnes was a good pitcher last year and still is; Jack Bentley is back again without his convolutions but nobody has noticed the difference, and Dutch Henry, the southpaw who was tried and found guilty before, is up again from Indianapolis and this time he will stay.

Three Untried Catchers.

The rising young men include Bill Clarkson, the Raleigh, N. C., specimen, who returns from Toledo a reconditioned buy and they say a permanent one; Fay Thomas, University of Southern California man who also is touted to stay, and Louis Almada, an eighteen-year-old Mexican lefthander, who probably will go away and come back. Howard Holland, University of Virginia product, also is around but nobody knows how long.

The three untried catchers include Al De Vormer, the lad who dived into Lake Michigan, fully clothed, to win $10, while a member of the Yankees; Jack Cummings, up from Wheeling, W. Va., with an injured hand but another Schalk, according to McGraw, and Sanford Hamby, Portsmouth, Va., who either will do or won't, according to the way the coin falls. One Castro, of Cuba, also is about the premises but he is going to George Burns at Williamsport, Pa.

The infield, as everyone knows will be Terry, Hornsby, Jackson and Lindstrom, with Eddie Farrell as utility man, with Eddie Farrell, Andy Cohen, sent to Buffalo with a recall option exerciseable on twenty-four hours notice; and Andy Reese, up from Memphis and Bentley ready to relieve Terry at first base. Reese also may alternate with George Harper, ex-Phillie, in right field, McGraw having determined to use an alternating outfield against right and left hand pitching. Among those who will be permitted to be available are Roush, "Bevo" Le Bourveau, back from the American association and proving himself to be a fine hitter; Al Tyson, once of Louisville; Harper, Reese and the callow Mr. Ott. Heine Mueller, ex-Cardinal, still is here but lots of things can happen and probably will. "Tex" Jeanes, ex-Senator, seems to be in the same boat as Mueller.

BILLY MAJORS NEAR DEATH

Famous Ohio Track Figure Critically Ill in Mansfield.

MANSFIELD, O., March 17.—"Billy" Majors, picturesque figure on the race tracks of Ohio and surrounding states for nearly half a century, is near death at his home here today, physicians announced. Majors, who is 65, and the oldest racing trainer and driver in the state, is suffering from a complication of diseases following an attack of influenza. Little hope is held out for his recovery, doctors said, although there has been no appreciable change in his condition during the past several days.

Majors began his career 48 years ago, when at the age of 17, he drove his first race on the old Hiawatha track, at Mount Vernon. From that day, he has figured actively in racing circles, training hundreds of horses, and driving many famous races. He has trained and driven for former Congressman Winfield Scott Kerr, and for Myers S. Cooper, of Cincinnati.

Among the more famous horses which Majors has piloted to victory on Ohio tracks are "Miss Rejected," 2:02 1-4; "Lady Pites," 2:02 1-4; and "Happy the Great," a promising animal which he developed and trained recently, which he owns.

As Thrilling in Beauty as in Performance—

Everyone says—"Nothing like it in the world"

The mere announcement of the Super-Six principle, freed to the limit, focused on Hudson a dramatic public expectancy such as never awaited any other car. In appearance and value, as well as performance, it is the most talked of car of the year.

New riders, new buyers and thousands who merely witness its vivid dash on the road are saying "There is nothing like it in the world."

In all it does, there is effortless ease, from its swift, smooth glide into motion, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four wheel brakes. It has been accorded the greatest public reception in Hudson history.

"THE POTTERS" IS SCREEN HIT

W. C. Fields Plays Browbeated Pa's Role.

The amusing character of browbeaten Pa Potter, eternally hopeful of some day making a million dollars, now being played by W. C. Fields in his latest Paramount starrring picture, "The Potters," at the Ceramic theatre, has a real life background as startling as the most bizarre of his imagined adventures.

A little over five years ago, a young journalist named J. P. McEvoy conceived the idea of a series of illustrated dialogues called "The Potters" and offered them for newspaper syndication. After months of hard work the series began to catch on and before long McEvoy discovered that the income from Pa Potter's adventures was sufficient to allow him to devote his entire time to the "family."

Its success seemed to warrant a more permanent form of expression and McEvoy ambitiously proceeded to write a play.

In the early part of 1923, Richard Herndron produced it with Donald Meek playing the ineffectual fortune-seeker. To McEvoy's great delight the play scored a hit and the proceeds of its long run began to put the author on easy street.

Two years later, the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, seeking a story for W. C. Fields, purchased the movie rights from McEvoy for a fancy figure and once again the imaginary character of poor, old Pa turned a real fortune into the lap of his creator. Since then McEvoy has produced "God Loves Us" and "Americana." The cast in Fileds' picture includes Ivy Harris as Mamie Potter; Mary Alden, Ma Potter; Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Red Miller; and Jack Egan, Bill Potter.

How I Beat Nervous Weakness and "Came Back"

"No one knows better than I the horror of joyless days and sleepless nights. There have been times when I felt hopeless and helpless—when life seemed almost unbearable. My weakness frequently caused me the most intense humiliation. Only one who has gone through such tortures can possibly realize my delight when the use of ARIUM brought me complete ease and relief and restored full, normal vigor." Such amazing testimony of physicians and users gives convincing proof of the power of ARIUM to help bring back health and strength to the sick and afflicted.

Overworked, sluggish kidneys, bladder weakness and prostate gland trouble may bring on so many distressing ailments which often lead to serious and perhaps fatal diseases, that every sufferer from lame back, rheumatic twinges, dizziness, pains in the head, sour stomach, frequent getting up at night, nervous weakness and lack of NERVE FORCE should start at once to get into his system the marvelous restorative Radium power supplied by ARIUM. This produces a vitalizing internal exercise helping to renew proper, normal youthful action just as Nature intended. A multitude of alarming symptoms often quickly disappear. You should see and feel a truly startling improvement in yourself each day.

NOTE: The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM guarantees successful and satisfactory results in every case from its progressive use or money refunded, and also that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from any good druggist such as Chas. T. Larkins, Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store, and Mathews.

"THE POTTERS" IS SCREEN HIT

W. C. Fields Plays Browbeated Pa's Role.

The amusing character of browbeaten Pa Potter, eternally hopeful of some day making a million dollars, now being played by W. C. Fields in his latest Paramount starrring picture, "The Potters," at the Ceramic theatre, has a real life background as startling as the most bizarre of his imagined adventures.

A little over five years ago, a young journalist named J. P. McEvoy conceived the idea of a series of illustrated dialogues called "The Potters" and offered them for newspaper syndication. After months of hard work the series began to catch on and before long McEvoy discovered that the income from Pa Potter's adventures was sufficient to allow him to devote his entire time to the "family."

Its success seemed to warrant a more permanent form of expression and McEvoy ambitiously proceeded to write a play.

In the early part of 1923, Richard Herndron produced it with Donald Meek playing the ineffectual fortune-seeker. To McEvoy's great delight the play scored a hit and the proceeds of its long run began to put the author on easy street.

Two years later, the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, seeking a story for W. C. Fields, purchased the movie rights from McEvoy for a fancy figure and once again the imaginary character of poor, old Pa turned a real fortune into the lap of his creator. Since then McEvoy has produced "God Loves Us" and "Americana." The cast in Fileds' picture includes Ivy Harris as Mamie Potter; Mary Alden, Ma Potter; Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Red Miller; and Jack Egan, Bill Potter.

Paris has three-wheeled auto racers.

Cities Vie for Style Lead.

Roused by the announcement that London was to start the fashion among men of wearing knee breeches, clothiers of Paris issued a call that the Parisian city should have control of men as well as women's styles. The call also urged the up-to-the-minute dressers to adopt the new idea in male costume before the British subjects did so. Now both cities are claiming that the revival of the abbreviated trousers started within their borders and that hereafter they will be the leaders in men's styles of every description.

REED GETS SPOTLIGHT IN FORD-SAPIRO SUIT

They Fired—We Fired.
Great Borah-Butler Talk.
o Demonstrate Up There.
Go West — To Seattle.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

CHINESE troops, near Wuhu, fired bullets against the bridge of the American destroyer, Preble, while that war boat was kindly escorting a Standard oil craft on the Yangtse river.

The Preble answered with machine gun fire. Nobody hurt, except possibly a few Chinese.

It could not be helped, and there may be more trouble like that and more serious. Too bad it can't be helped.

The Yangtse is a Chinese river. We should be much annoyed if a Chinese warship were escorting a Chinese oilship, against our will, up the Hudson or inside the Golden Gate.

THE great Borah and Butler debate is arranged. The senator will uphold prohibition, the college professor will try to prove that it is the cause of all our woes.

When the debate ends we shall be just where we were; some believing that you can make men good by law, others that they must learn to be wise, stumbling, falling, finally learning, as a child learns to walk.

MEANWHILE we have bootleg whisky and the world's biggest crime wave. Also we have extraordinary prosperity, and the most amazing savings deposits and land booms.

It is for each to decide for himself, but deciding will make no difference. Prohibition is here and will stay until after Senator Borah loses interest in politics and Dr. Butler joins the earth alumni, in realms above.

THE League of Nations' committee to "stave off war" makes an announcement that should calm any savage breast.

In addition to making naval demonstrations against any nation that insists on fighting when the league happens to object, "aerial demonstrations can be used, in the future, within reasonable limits."

This means, in plainer English, that the League of Nations will send flying machines roaring over the obstinate nation's big cities, sending down this notice, "We have with us, up here, an assortment of explosive bombs and poisonous gases that would interest you considerably, if we dropped them. Behave yourselves."

Such a demonstration, if the league chose to direct it against this much disliked nation would interest us. We have not even dug hiding places for our populations, much less arranged to protect them. We should have to imitate Crockett's intelligent coon, which said "Don't shoot, I'll come down."

ANY young man desiring to go west and grow up with the country has an opportunity in the opening this week of the Seattle bond and stock exchange. It starts with only 22 members, compared with 1,100 in New York's exchange, and will take in a few more, one in three months at most.

Very able northwestern business men are back of this exchange, which in days to come will compare with the

PASSIONATE DEFENSE MADE OF AUTO KING'S ATTACKS IN MAGAZINE

Both Sides Deny Settlement Rumor In Libel Action

DETROIT, Mich., March 7.—Rumors that a settlement out of court is pending in the Ford-Sapiro million-dollar libel suit were emphatically denied today by both sides.

"No offer of settlement was ever made by Mr. Ford and none is contemplated," said Clifford B. Longley, his personal attorney.

"I have not been offered a settlement," said Aaron Sapiro, the plaintiff, "none is pending and none would be acceptable."

So unless some legal obstacles intervene the case will be decided by the jury.

Missouri Senator, Presidential Possibility in 1928, Declares Charges Made Against Chicago Man Were Justified.

DEFENDS RICHEST MAN IN AMERICA

Plaintiff's Counsel in $1,000,000 Libel Suit Tells Jury Sapiro Was Injured in Three Ways by Publication.

By William K. Hutchinson.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 17. — Senator James A. Reed, a presidential possibility in 1928, captured the spotlight today in the Ford-Sapiro million-dollar libel suit.

Charges True, Reed Says.

In a new role, that of defender, Reed made a passionate defense of Henry Ford's attacks upon Aaron Sapiro, the so-called "prince of farm organizers," and a "Jewish ring," which Ford's Dearborn Independent charged were exploiting the American farmer.

The Missouri Democrat told the fifty-fifty jury of men and women, the attacks were justified because they were true.

A packed court room saw a new Reed in action. It was a different role he assumed from that of prosecutor in the famous slush fund investigations. He defended the richest man in America, however, with the same zeal he displayed in revealing the huge expenditures in the Pennsylvania and Illinois senatorial campaigns.

For Never Saw Articles.

Reed made it plain that Ford's chief defense will be that the attacks on Sapiro were true.

"The law put no bridle in the mouth of truth," said Reed. "We claim here and we shall try to prove it that all the articles published about Sapiro were true."

Henry Ford never saw the articles published in the Dearborn Independent, Reed declared. The auto king had nothing to do with their publication, he added, but the Ford organization will not deny the articles were published as quoted by Sapiro in filing the libel suit.

Gallagher's Opening Statement.

Before Reed began, William H. Gallagher, chief of Sapiro's counsel closing his opening statement to the jury.

Sapiro was injured in three ways, said Gallagher. Ford attacked him as a man of honor, his loyalty to clients and his work as an organizer of cooperatives. The attacks, said Sapiro's attorney, were published in the Dearborn Independent at a time when its circulation was 600,000.

"There were at least two readers for each issue," said Gallagher.

"There were 20 of these articles published. That means these were 20,000,000 separate libels against my client."

Gallagher declared Sapiro did not have to prove his good character nor that he had been damaged by the Ford publication.

"It is presumed that Mr. Sapiro has a good character, and that he was damaged by the libelous articles," he said. "That is the law.

"When these attacks were made, though, we will show that he was at

NANKING FALLS INTO HANDS OF CANTON ARMY, SHANGHAI SAYS

Another Report Denies Capture, But Admits City is Menaced.

HEAVY FIGHTING

Fall of Ancient Capital Would be Great Victory.

PEKING, March 17.—Accusing the Chinese authorities of faking the incriminating papers found aboard the Pamiat Lenina, the Soviet embassy in a third note today demanded immediate release of the ship, and of Mme. Borodin and the three diplomatic couriers who were arrested.

The note adds that the couriers were subjected to unheard of indignities, and were handcuffed following their arrest.

By ALFRED MEYER.

SHANGHAI, March 17. — Heavy fighting is in progress about Nanking and there are unconfirmed reports that it has already fallen to the Cantonese.

Another report states that the Cantonese have not captured Nanking but are menacing it.

Pi Shou Chen, Shanghai defense commissioner, stated today that heavy fighting is proceeding in the vicinity of Nanking and predicted a sweeping Kuochun victory. He declared startling developments are imminent but refused to disclose details.

The General Labor Union has accepted the report of the fall of Nanking and in celebration has ordered a general strike. There are 13,000 idle already and it is expected that 250,000 will eventually be involved in the strike.

Excitement in Shanghai.

The capture of Nanking, the ancient capital of China and present capital of Kiangsu, would be great victory for the Cantonese troops almost equivalent to the fall of Shanghai. The fall of Nanking would undoubtedly mean the eventual fall of Shanghai.

There are five American firms doing business in Nanking and the last census showed more than 400 Americans resident there, but it is believed that many of these have already left for the city of Shanghai.

The reports concerning the fall of Nanking have caused great excitement in Shanghai, particularly in the native city. Every precaution is being taken by the foreign authorities to prevent celebrators from making any attempt to enter the international settlement. The British guards which have been posted on the outskirts of the settlement are on the alert and volunteers are ready for a call to service at any moment.

The British authorities today arrested two Mohammedans and one Sikh who will probably face charges of attempting to incite sedition in the camps of the Indian regiments. All three were held without bail. The British military authorities announced they are making an inquiry to determine whether Indian communist organizations are active in Shanghai.

Kiangnan Docks Seized.

LONDON, March 17.—General Pi has seized control of the Kiangnan docks in the native city of Shanghai where a number of American vessels are under re-construction, according to a Shanghai dispatch to the Daily Express. The dispatch states that General Pi has declared the seizure of the docks necessary because of urgently needed repairs to northern warships.

Admiral Williams of the United States naval forces has dispatched a warship to the Kiangnan dock district to protect American interests there.

Fall of Mould Kills Laborer.

HAMILTON, March 17.—Edward Baerman, laborer, was dead here today from injuries sustained when a large mould, containing a 2,000 pound iron casting, fell from a moving crane and struck him.

CANTON LAWYER GETS RIGHT TO INTERVIEW M'DERMOTT IN PRISON

Appellate Court Mandate in Mellett Case, However, is Suspended Pending Warden's Appeal.

ACTION DEFERRED UNTIL MARCH 28

E. L. Mills Wins Fight for Permission to Talk Privately With Convicted Slayer of Canton News Editor.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—E. L. Mills, attorney, was granted the right to confer privately with Pat McDermott, serving a life sentence in Ohio penitentiary for the murder of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher, by the court of appeals here today. The mandate, however, was suspended until the supreme court has had an opportunity to pass upon an appeal of the decision by the court of appeals. The appeal was filed by Warden P. E. Thomas of the penitentiary.

In its ruling the court of appeals suspended its mandate until March 28, after which time Mills will be allowed to interview McDermott if the supreme court concurs with the appellate court.

Thomas Will Fight Ruling.

"I most assuredly will fight this ruling to the supreme court," Warden Thomas said today when learning the decision of the lower court. "I want to know who is running the penitentiary, and I want the supreme court to decide who is responsible for the care and conduct of prisoners at the Ohio penitentiary.'

The court of appeals in its ruling declared itself of "the opinion that Mills is entitled to a mandate ordering Warden Thomas to allow him to have a private interview with his client at a reasonable hour and day to be prescribed by the warden."

Mills has for two months been refused the right to a private interview with McDermott, though Warden Thomas has agreed to allow an interview of the presence of himself or penitentiary officer.

Potter Compares His Snake Killing With St. Patrick's

ZANESVILLE, O., March 17.—Grant Davis, Weller pottery employe here, today was comparing his snake killing record with that credited to a saintly old man who lived centuries ago on the shores of the Irish sea.

Davis walked into town Wednesday and told of having killed 11 garter snakes all over two feet long in a ten-minute walk near the pottery.

"That's a lot of snakes," remarked a fellow employe.

"Ever hear of a man called St Patrick?" queried another.

Senate Adopts Resolution on Improvement of "Narrows."

COLUMBUS, O., March 17.—"If the referendum provision of the constitution of Ohio is to be frittered away on such slight pretexts as those outlined in these bills, there soon will be nothing left of it," declared Governor Vic Donahey today, announcing that he had vetoed two more bills.

Four times during the present session, the governor has vetoed measures enacted by the Ohio legislature.

The bills which today received the disapproving signature of the governor are: By Representative E. D. Stone, Guernsey county, seeking to authorize the leasing of county, township and school district lands for iron ore, coal, petroleum, gas and other minerals, and by Representative Gilbert Morgan, Cleveland, providing for printing and distributing session laws and other public documents. The emergency clause was attached to each bill for the purpose of making them effective immediately as laws.

Legislative leaders were considering what action should be taken by the solons as a result of the veto of the item in the supplementary appropriations bill which sought to provide $16,783 for salaries and expenses of the proposed state board to examine

Call Parley Here On Proposal for Air Mail Port

Members of the aeronautics committee of the local Chamber of Commerce will hold a conference with Congressman Frank Murphy, Steubenville, J. C. Mansfield, Pittsburgh, chief of the Railway mail service in this section and the board of county commissioners within the next few days with a view toward establishing an air mail port in Columbiana county.

A representative of the McKeesport firm, which has the contract for carrying United States mails between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, visited East Liverpool last December, looking over proposed sites for a landing field. Sites along the Lincoln highway and other improved thoroughfares within a close distance of East Liverpool are said to be under consideration.

FOUR TABLETS SWALLOWED IN MISTAKE FOR PAIN REMEDY

Miss Cora Dewees Reported in Critical Condition.

HEADACHE BLAMED

Deadly Drug Taken at Home in Louisiana Avenue.

Miss Cora Dewees, 18, daughter of Mrs. Mary Dewees, Louisiana avenue, Chester, is in a critical condition today in her home, as a result, it is alleged, of taking four bichloride of mercury tablets last night in mistake for headache medicine.

The girl, discovering her mistake, called her mother who summoned Dr. George E. Lewis.

The drug victim's condition was serious throughout the night, while she showed no improvement at noon, it was said.

Friends said she had been in ill health and had been subject to frequent headaches.

KIWANIS SINGS IRISH NUMBERS

Landscape Architect Speaker at Noon Luncheon.

Irish songs in observance of St. Patrick's day were sung by members of the Kiwanis club at the luncheon meeting in Larkins' annex, Market street, at noon today. The songfest was in charge of H. F. Laughlin, with Claire Chambers as accompanist. Kenneth Smith rendered solos.

Tel W. Nicolet, Pittsburgh landscape architect, discussed zoning as a means of protecting residential property. Mayor Ralph Benedum, Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore, President of Council N. P. Kerr and James S. Hilbert, members of the city planning commission, attended the meeting.

Charles W. Hendershot, first vice-president, presided. Special guests were Charles Persohn, president of the Kiwanis club at Lakewood; Wilson F. Smith, this city; C. C. Macdonald and W. W. Ingram, both of Chester.

Members accepted the invitation of the Salineville Kiwanis club to attend an inter-city meeting to be held at Salineville next Tuesday evening. The program will be given by members of the local club, Harry Keys, chairman of the inter-city relations committee, said.

Nicolet declared that East Liverpool faced a real problem in handling automobile traffic after the Lincoln Highway through West Virginia is completed. He urged that streets be constructed so as to withstand the type of travel to which they will be subject. Everywhere, the speaker asserted, there is a movement to divert traffic around instead of through cities.

NATION'S CHIEF SPRAINS WRIST

WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Coolidge appeared at the Davis Cup drawing today with his right hand and wrist wrapped in bandages put on to protect it.

He could not account for how his wrist had been sprained.

EFFORTS TOWARD PEACE IN NICARAGUA ABANDONED, OWING TO PROBABILITY OF MILITARY DECISION

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 17.—Efforts towards peace in Nicaragua have been abandoned for the time being, owing to the probability of a military decision in a short time.

Conservative headquarters announce that General Moncada has withdrawn his forces to Matiguas and is avoiding contact with the federal troops.

A peace mission which was to have started for Puerto Cabezas to attempt to urge Dr. Sacasa, Liberal leader to give up his efforts to win military successes, has been abandoned as those interested feel that the war will have been brought to a conclusion by a decisive battle before they could reach Puerto Cabezas.

Liberals in the Managua district are reported dissatisfied with Dr. Sacasa for his refusal to end the warfare immediately, feeling that the struggle is now hopeless and that further fighting will mean only needless sacrifices of life.

Although the government states that general Moncada and his Liberal forces are striving to avoid battle, they announce that federal troops are hot on the trail and will press for either a decisive battle or surrender.

The government announces that it lost 61 dead and 70 wounded in the battles at San Jeronimo and Tierra Azule on Tuesday. It estimates that the Liberals lost 200 dead and 100 wounded.

General Moncada's effective forces have been reduced by 20 per cent during this week's fighting, the government claims.

Admiral Latimer has left for Corinto, but prior to his departure he congratulated the editors of La Prensa for their initiative in putting out an English section of their paper, carrying International News Service dispatches, for the benefit of American marines and sailors.

Bucket of Green Paint Ruins Suit Of Son of Erin

CINCINNATI, March 17.—Patrick Fogarty, whose ancestors hailed from 'Ould Erin,' complained to police today that someone, although perhaps in the spirit of St. Patrick's day, ruined his new shit.

Falling from the window of a downtown building, the contents of a bucket of green paint splashed all over Fogarty.

The Little White Hag

©BY LITTLE, BROWN AND CO. RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASS'N

BY FRANCIS BEEDING

CHAPTER SIXTY-SIX.

The Center looked at him a moment.

"You very fortunate man," he said at last. "I bow to superior force of European governments. Also I congratulate brave American detective on excellent impersonation of Finckelstein. Very lifelike and deceptive."

Claypole smiled, rubbing his wrists which still bore the marks of the cords with which his hands had been bound.

"Well, Sergeant, what are you going to do with the prisoners?" he asked.

The Commissioner is coming up," replied the sergeant. "He will be here in a moment."

The voice of the Center broke in.

"May I be permitted to lower quite empty and useless hands?" he inquired. "Fatigue of upright posture very great."

"I'm sorry," said Claypole firmly, "but we can't afford to take any risks with you, Mr. Center."

He turned to the gendarme.

"Better put on the handcuffs."

"There isn't another pair," replied the man, "not till the Commissioner arrives."

"It was lucky for me you shouted," remarked Claypole.

"There was a crash," I said, "immediately afterwards. What happened?"

"I turned over the chair, which put them off their stroke, but they had me upon it again, and if the door had held another second, it would have been a long farewell to all my greatness."

There was a pause as we waited for the Commissioner to arrive. I turned to Claypole in some excitement. I was longing to know why he had not come with the Center to the caves.

"Tell me," I said, "why did you miss that appointment at Cartigny?"

"Well," he replied, "the Center just wouldn't come and that was the end of it. 'It was against first principle of his organization to go in person,' he said. What was worse, the Ring had decided that I must say where the drugs were and remain here as a hostage for their safe delivery. I had to take it or leave it. They were beginning to smell a rat in my beard, and I did not dare to increase their suspicion by holding out. Then when the chauffeur turned up just now, I found that Mr. Center meant in any case to cut the vital cord of Finckelstein. So I peeled away the face fungus and prepared to face the music."

He broke off, as I heard footsteps coming down the corridor.

"That'll be the Commissioner," I said.

The footsteps approached, and a hand was laid on the door.

At this moment the Center, who had hitherto stood motionless before the pistol of the gendarme, suddenly said something softly in Japanese. The effect was immediate.

The uninjured Japanese servant, who, as I have already said, was standing at the window handcuffed, lifted his head sharply. He glanced rapidly at the gendarme in charge of him on his right, and crooking his left leg behind him, struck the man in the groin. The gendarme collapsed, and the Japanese sprang to the window.

In an instant I remembered the brass holdback with the graven face that held back the curtain. Sure enough, the man was pressing the mouth of the image with his manacled hands, and there was a click just as Claypole and I laid hands on him.

Simultaneously the door was flung open and the Commissioner and one or two gendarmes appeared, but I had no eyes for them, for the Center had meanwhile dropped to the ground as though shot, and, rising again immediately, had seized the trouser leg of the gendarme covering him, jerking them violently upwards with the result that the man fell heavily onto his back. In a bound, the Center was on the bed and through the hole in the wall leading to the secret pasasge down which I had walked the first time I had tried to escape. He vanished through the panel and the next instant it slid back into position. I dashed forward and pressed the carved knob, but the panel refused to move. The passage was closed, and we should now have to find the room to which it led.

"Quick," I shouted. "Follow me."

I rushed out of the door, past the bewildered Commissioner and, with Claypole at my heels, darted down the corridor.

"Don't say he's escaped," groaned Claypole, as he ran beside me.

"He's gone to his private room," I answered. "There's a way up the chimney on to the roof, but he can't get down from there. I've tried it myself and it's impossible. He's bound to go to his own room, but I hope to Heaven there's no other secret passage."

We reached the padded door leading to the living quarters of the house. Beside it stood a gendarme.

Mother! Now You Know How To Help Your Puny, Weak Child

It's Your Duty to Aid Him to Grow Strong, Active and Sound in Body and Mind.

That little boy or girl of yours—that doesn't weigh enough—that isn't strong—has no appetite—lacks vigor and is perhaps backward, listless and timid.

What are you going to do with him?

Have you ever heard of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar coated and as easy for ailing children to take as candy?

Every druggist in America sells them—60 tablets, 60 cents—and the supremely good combination of upbuilding agents surely does help the sickly, run down, puny, frail little ones.

No need to give him any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—McCoy's Tablets, rich in vitamines, are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine, and they surely do.

Try them as directed for 30 days, mother; and if at the end of that time you are not delighted with the improvement in your dear little one, get your money back.

You can get them at any druggist and remember, too, they are fine for thin, run down, underweight men and women who need more flesh, strength, vigor and vitality. Demand McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Your bunions may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What's to be done?

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Seatorns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Nausea may come from many causes but diapepsin works quickly in any case. Expectant mothers get real benefit from diapepsin, not alone in freedom from nausea but more nutrition from better digestion.

PRESIDENT'S CHOICE OF WEST LOOKED UPON AS SHREWD MOVE

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Never say Calvin Coolidge isn't a diplomat.

He's going to spend next summer in the west.

From the temporary White House at 15 Dupont Circle this information has been definitely given out.

Nothing crass. Nothing abrupt. No bald announcement that Mr. Coolidge is a candidate to succeed himself as president, with a crudely implied warning to other aspirants to "keep off."

Just a little social note.

Well, it's going to "summer" in the west.

Anybody got any fault to find? Emphatically NOT—out loud.

It's been suggested repeatedly that President Coolidge is a little shy on knowledge of the west.

He's going to repair this deficiency, if any, now.

It's suggested that he'll do it in the vicinity of Colorado Springs, but the exact spot's a mere detail, so long as it's done in the "vast open spaces," where it's conceivible that a certain feeling of soreness still lingers over the presidential veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Dr. Nicolas Murray Butler didn't convince many politicians when he said he didn't believe President Coolidge wants another term.

The politicians have been dead sure all along that that's exactly what the president wants. However, they did figure that it was a pretty difficult thing for him to come right out and say.

His rivals have been waiting impatiently for him to declare himself ever since the spring of 1925. They'd have preferred to have him say he'd refuse a renomination. But they admitted among themselves that they didn't expect he would. The next best thing, as they had it doped out, would be to have him announce, "Yes, I'm a 1928 candidate."

Because the minute he did that, they intended to spring the "third term bogey" on him.

The president's friends argued, to be sure, that the "third term bogey" wasn't a "bogy" at all. All the same, they didn't care to have it lugged out.

Maybe that's why Mr. Coolidge was so slow about proclaiming himself a 1928 candidate. He knew what would happen the minute he did. On the other hand, he knew the "bogy" couldn't be used against him so long as he didn't declare himself once more in the running, in so many words.

Was there any way for him to let the whole country know he wanted another term, without asking for it, out and out?—some way he could put himself on record, to all intents and purposes, and yet defy the "bogey?"

Sure there was. He could do it by spending a summer out west, popularizing himself.

Anybody who knows President Coolidge knows he never would "summer" in the west except for some mighty good reason. The good reason's very obvious. The president doesn't need to worry about a recommendation so far as the east's concerned, but his chances in the west have been recognized as a bit dubious, especially since he turned down the McNary-Haugen bill.

That he'd profit politically by a summer's stay out west has been so plain that some of his advisers have even hinted at it, but nobody really thought he'd fall for the idea.

Heh as fallen for it, though.

If he'd explain it in letters a foot high, it wouldn't be any clearer that he's after western support in 1928. A million loud speakers couldn't have broadcast his candidacy any more distinctly. And yet the president hasn't published it in a way to justify prodeduction of the "bogey."

Diplomacy! Why, it's a regular "coup," as they express it at the state department.

WESTERN FILM AT AMERICAN

Francis McDonald Stars in "Valley of Hell."

There is a new star on the western horizon. The altogether interesting and versatile Francis McDonald, long a favorite in motion pictures, has arranged to produce eight western romantic dramas for release by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and the first of these, "The Valley of Hell," will form the piece de resistance of the American Theatre program tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

A most efficient and highly experienced organization has been built around McDonald, who will be starred in these western productions. Isidore Bernstein, who has been largely responsible for the success of the Jack Hoxie westerns, is supervising the McDonald pictures. Cliff Smith, who has directed Hoxie under Bernstein's supervision, and who also directed William S. Hart for years, having made some of that actor's greatest pictures, is at the megaphone.

The outfit henceforth, will be known as The Big Horn Ranch Riders, and exteriors for the eight westerns have been found at the justly famous Big Horn Ranch near Moapa, Nevada, a locale abounding in the rugged, picturesque scenery so important to the western type of cinema.

McDonald is well known as a player of both leading and heavy roles, and his versatility makes him particularly desirable in western atmosphere. Handsome, daring, and an expert rider and roper, he gives promise of soon becoming a favorite with lovers of the western type of film. He has been surrounded with a band of the most skillful riders, and a complement of Indians completes the roster of the supernumeraries.

Edna Murphy supports McDonald in "The Valley of Hell," and others in the cast are William Steele, Anita Garvin and Joe Bennett.

Sao Paulo and Cantos, Brazil, are to be connected by an automobile highway.

The first soda fountain ever to appear in Concepcion, Chile, has been installed recently in the lobby of a theatre.

Two hundred railway passenger cars in Yorkshire, England, ran away recently and crashed into an embankment.

"But since taking Redwood's Tepee Tonic it is not necessary for me to take pills as my bowels are as regular as they can be.

Redwood

"I have a good appetite and am stronger, too. I sleep soundly at night and am not bothered with gas on my stomach.

"I'll recommend Tepee Herb Tonic to everybody and I know they will do the same when they have tried it."

Improvement of Narrows

Improvement of the "Narrows," a five-mile strip of the Ohio river highway, which extends from East Liverpool to Cincinnati, a distance of 428 miles, is a foregone conclusion if the state senate approves and the United States congress heeds the suggestion in a resolution introduced at Columbus by State Senator Harry M. Carpenter of Steubenville.

The proposal, which probably will be adopted by the legislature, requests congress to enact such legislation, or amendments to existing laws, as will permit the use of federal funds to the extent of 50 per cent. of the cost of the "Narrows" work as well as the improvement of a 12-mile section of this all-important artery of transportation between Shadyside and Powhatan in Belmont county.

Increased federal aid is urged because the expensive construction, due to the fact that it will be necessary to excavate sandstone bluffs, is too much of a burden upon the state and counties. Without aid from the national treasury it is improbable that the work shall be undertaken.

Need of improvement of the "Narrows" has been frequently cited by the East Liverpool and Wellsville Chambers of Commerce as well as the commissioners of Columbiana and Jefferson counties. And, too, the road has been inspected by Gov. A. V. Donahey and officials of the state highway department who are cognizant of the situation.

Favorable action on the resolution now before the legislature should prove an important factor in getting wide territory served by the "Narrows" out of the mud.

Good 1927

Time are due to be good for almost everybody during the current year, say the Washington forecasters. But there are two exceptions—the farmer and the bituminous miner. The miner may have no income at all after April 1, and the farmer's chances are not so good as everybody wishes they were.

But people who have jobs have better incomes than ever before. An abundance of credit at low rates is made possible by a flood of gold pouring into this country from all over the world. An increasing manufacturing efficiency is resulting in lower prices for many products, which increases the sales. The railroads are able to handle greater volume of goods with less difficulty than ever before.

All these points make for orderly prosperity. Now if the farmer will diversify his crops and increase his co-operative activities enough to keep his head above water until some method appears to give him permanent aid, and if the miners and operators can arrive at some solution of their problems, the country should be a happy place.

The man who overbuys his income, however, is going to be just as miserable as ever. But the man who buys sanely as well as generously has the best chance in the history of the world.

Long-Range Photos

A photographer of the army air service proposes to take a photograph of New Yory City from Rochester, 300 miles away. Or at least, to try. He expects to snap the metropolis from a plane 40,000 feet up in the air. It is pretty clear up that high, as a rule, and one can see for a long distance over the curve of the earth, and there are new cameras and equipment of remarkable range. Experiments at Dayton, O., resulted in fair photographs of scenes 140 miles away.

So the camera already outranges the famous big guns with which the Germans shelled Paris from a safe distance behind their own battle lines. The new range photograph will greatly increase the efficiency of such guns, by showing the gunners the marks they are aiming at and the damage done by their shells. War scouting of all kinds will be greatly aided.

As for civil use, that is another matter. Who wants to have his picture taken without his knowledge, from an invisible airplane somewhere up in the sky 50 or 100 miles away? It will make a person nervous to go outdoors if there are any planes and cameras in the state capable of such spooky work.

Real Estate Signs

"I never saw California looking more beautiful," remarked Will Rogers. "The tremendous rains have washed away all the real estate signs."

Well, to tell the truth, most real estate signs do not add much to the charms of the landscape. And other signs usually add still less.

Yet the real estate signs, in California or any other state, have a certain homely merit that excuses them. Where you see them—unless they are very old and dilapidated—they are usually signs of life. The more of them there are cluttering up the scenery, the more property is moving. And they are, at their worst, temporary evils, marking the transition from one kind of beauty to another kind—from natural beauty of field and woods to the ordered beauty and charm of community life, each family in its own pleasant home.

The best pedestrian is the one who either stands still or marches straight ahead.

"We are living in an age of tension," says a moralist. To be specific, an age of extension, pretension and contention.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 17.—That southeasterly section of Manhatton, known as the East Side, has grown a trifle resentful over uplift. It really feels imported idealism from uptown has been worn a little threadbare.

Instead of blazing pistols along Five Points there are now friendly Rotarian thumps on the back. The East Side has boosting organizations megaphoning progress. Bathtubs are no longer used as receptacles for coal nor is garbage kicked around until it disappears.

Few fire escapes are flapping today with wet wash. Columbus Circle has more soap box radicals than may be found the entire length of Rivington and Orchard streets. The picturesque dukes and mayors that ruled the teeming thoroughfares have about lost their sway.

The East Side has not exactly become refined, but it is streaked with a new spirit of self-consciousness. The word "slums" is anathema. And even the term "melting pot" brings a flood of epistolary rebukes. The East Side considers itself quite Americanized.

Thin sprays of light do not flicker from gas-jetted bulbs in sunless hallways. There is the glitter of electricity. Even push carts have become rubber tired and white enamled. More than 5,000 residents own their own motor cars. Sabbatical silk hats are common.

Gaudy cabarets and night clubs have supplanted the smelly little cafes featuring lone fiddlers. Ramshackle houses known as Poverty Belt on Ludlow street have suffered application of the pick ax. A skyscraper hotel rears its facade on Delancey street.

There are still squalor, five-to-a-room flats and assorted ordors, but a shining newness is gradually blotting them out. Tides from European ghettos have been checked by immigration laws, and the eminently successful move up town. Hence more room for a bigger and grandier East Side.

Dramatic critics are rarely privileged to remain for the final curtain of opening plays, due to the editorial "dead line" for their copy. Too, a premiere runs late. The method is usually safe for it is rare even a final curtain wallop will save a poor play. Indeed, most critics are so well grounded in their work they can size up a play fairly accurately after seeing the first act. About the only big mistake they ever made was in critical judgment of the "Abie" show.

In many ways 116th street reflects a cultural development superior to any other section of New York. It is near Columbia university. There is no jazz hurrah, but an academic activity that fairly bristles. Greek festival games in which winners are crowned with laurel wreaths, bring eager crowds. Readings and scientific lectures fill big halls. And at International House nearly 1,000 foreign students are housed. Here great economic questions are nightly debated. The entire atmosphere of the neighborhood is bookis, but stimulating. Even the boarding houses are different. They, too, seem to have been gripped by the intellectual stimulus. Soda jerkers often put down their Latin books to fashion a vanilla sundae.

Next to Harry K. Thaw and in an entirely different and eminently respectable manner, of course, Samuel Untermeyer, the corporation lawyer, is said to have achieved more first page space in New York newspapers than any other person. He has been the chief figure in a hundred and one public investigations. During such probes he has had an uncanny knack of scooping up a fresh sensation for every edition.

Natacha Rambova, the former Mrs. Rudolph Valentino, is clicking on high in a Broadway mystery play hit. There are rumors next season will see her in a play written by herself.

NO CHANCE FOR AN AMATEUR

Before Fitzsimmons fought Corbett at Carson City, in 1897, he did his training at Cook's Camp in the outskirts of the Nevada capital. His wife was with him. Mrs. Fitzsimmons wsa a sincere, earnest-minded woman.

About nine o'clock on the morning of the battle, she went in her room and shut the door behind her. Very soon there filtered through the cottage the sounds of a voice uplifted in supplication. She was asking the Almighty to let her husband win the impending match.

Fitzsimmons stood near the doorway, listening to his lady's petition. Dan Hickey, who was Bob's head trainer, suggested that it might not be a bad idea if Bob also knelt down and added his prayers to those of Mrs. Fitzsimmons.

The Cornishman shook his bald h-ad.

"No, Dan," he said, seriously, "I gue-s not. If the good Lord won't do it f-- her he certainly ain't going to do it for me!"

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Studying Rays.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—A generation ago, or less than four decades, about all that mankind knew about rays, or waves, those mysterious forces of the ether, was limited to the two kinds of rays which he feels the effects at all times—light rays and heat rays. Today science has made man familiar with a long list of rays, made some of them his servants in the performance of modern miracles, and is studying them all with a view to unfolding new marvels.

In studying rays scientists have been led to strange, out-of-the-way places. In order to find the best location from which to conduct a three-years' observation of the sun's heat rays, Dr. C. G. Abbott traveled all over the Eastern Hemisphere, and the National Geographic Society and the Smithsonian Institution now have an expedition on an isolated mountain top in a desert in southwest Africa. When Professor Millikan desired to study the Cosmic ray, which is also known as the Millikan ray, he found it necessary to journey to a crystal clear lake in the high Bolivian Andes, while Professor Michelson in studying the speed of light carried on his experiments near Mt. Wilson, California.

So it is that no one knows from what corner of the earth the next startling revelations about rays may come, and it is wholly a matter of speculation as to what the revelations may be. Scientists themselves in many instances are carrying on their studies without any definite idea as to what their experiments may disclose. They are hunting something but don't know what it is.

As for the ordinary mortal, he is hard put to it to understand even the most rudimentary things about rays, and as a rule adapts himself to the uses of new ray discoveries—such as the radio—without even attempting to understand. Tell him that the Hertzian rays, the longer of which are radio waves, range from 254 to the inch to 18.6 miles in length, and he is likely to give you a blank look and tell you that he "got" Chicago last evening "and that's a good many times 18 miles."

For the benefit of all such, the National Geographic Society has issued a statement that throws real light on the rays—explains them in a way that is graphic as well as lucid. The great gamut that rays run is likened to the keyboard of a gigantic piano on which they are grouped in octaves.

Near the middle of this imaginary keyboard is the best known octave, that of the visible light rays. These rays bathe us continually by day from the sun and by night from electric and other lights. As we go from violet colored light, with the shortest light waves, toward the bass of the keyboard, these rays have longer and longer wave lengths to the red rays, the longest that will illuminate an object and so make it visible.

The next longer waves and all others beyond them toward the bass are invisible. First come the heat rays, and next come the relatively short Hertzian waves for which few uses have been found. When Hertzian waves of 100 meters or more are encountered we have the most widely used radio waves.

Turning toward the treble end of the keyboard we again find none but invisible rays. The first of these, covering about five octaves, are the ultra-violet rays, nearly an octave of them coming from the sun. These sun rays do not illuminate objects, but they make themselves known by tanning and freckling our skin and producing photographic and chemical changes. It takes from 64,000 to 100,000 of them to make an inch.

Beyond the ultra-violet waves that come from the sun are several octaves of other ultra-violet waves that are artificially produced, being radiated when substances are brought to a very great heat. There are more than 1,250,000 of them to the inch, and they merge into and even overlap the next great group, the well-known artificially produced X-rays. Thus a short ultra-violet ray is the same as a long X-ray. For a long time X-rays were the shortest known to exist, the shorter ones running 125,000,000 and more to the inch. These rays are not stopped by ordinary materials, so with them it is possible to make photographs through boards, human flesh, and other objects. They are stopped, however, by a fraction of an inch of lead.

Next come the gamma-rays that are given off by that mysterious element, radium, and might be called naturally produced X-days. It takes more than four billion of the shortest gamma-rays to make one inch, and they will plunge through seven or eight inches of lead before being stopped.

Why Rays Penetrate Matter.

The reason that the shorter rays penetrate matter, according to the National Geographic experts, is supposed to be because the waves are so short in comparison with the molecules of matter and the distances between the molecules that they pass through the spaces just as a breeze passes through a screen. But many thicknesses of screens will stop a breeze, and so a sufficient thickness of matter will stop even the shortest rays.

Until 1925 the gamma-rays of radium were the shortest rays known, but in that year Professor Millikan discovered the Cosmic or Millikan ray. This is the natural ray coming to the earth from outside space, but apparently not from the sun. This ray is almost inconceivably short. It would require more than 630 billions of them to make one inch, and they will pass through more than six feet of lead before being stopped.

Rays may be described broadly though not very satisfactorily, it is stated, as carriers of energy in straight lines from a given source through "empty" space. They may radiate from their source in all directions like pins stuck in a ball, or by artificial means they may be gathered into beams like those of light thrown out by an automobile headlight, or like beams of heat thrown out by a bowl-shaped electric heater.

What might be called the true rays are often spoken of as "waves," because the most generally accepted theory of their nature is the wave theory. They are supposed to be waves in the ether, the "substance" that we assume fills "empty" space between the planets and stars—the same "substance" that fills a vacuum tube when all the air and other gases have been pumped out.

These waves are thought to be like the widening waves made by a pebble dropped into water, first a crest, then a hollow, then another crest, and so on. They are measured from crest to crest. The crest is supposed to be light, the hollow, darkness; but they move so rapidly that the light seems continuous.

This narrower definition which emphasizes the supposed wave form, it is explained, fails to include what are often loosely spoken of as "rays"—the cathode rays of the Coolidge tube and the alpha and beta rays of radium.

WILLARD MACK STORMS CITY IN GREAT PLAY

"Honor Be Damned!" Captivates Ceramic Patrons.

PUNCH AND MORAL

Star, Forced to Make Curtain Speech, Recalls 25 Years Ago.

Willard Mack, whose histrionic ability was recognized a quarter of a century ago when he appeared here in featured roles with Himalins, Sautel and other companies whose names are recalled only by present-day grandmothers, took a large audience by storm at the Ceramic theatre last night in his presentation of a great play from his own pen, "Honor Be Damned!"

So flawless, so realistic and so natural was his delineation of the chief role, John Connell, a successful criminal lawyer, whose cleverness in handling the defense saved guilty men from just punishment, that East Liverpool theatre-goers demanded repeated curtain calls. Finally, in response to their enthusiastic applause, Mack stepped to the footlights and made a speech of appreciation.

"Some of the grandmothers in this audience probably recall my visit here 25 years ago," said the player-author. "I was then supposed to be a featured player. That was the day Chester Devone, whom some of you remember, was a matinee idol. Mr. Devone is now a playwright in New York and doing very well.

"I want to make you one promise. I expect to visit East Liverpool every year, and I pledge that the cast that appears in the large cities will come here.

"I love East Liverpool people, and your reception of our offering tonight has touched my heart. I thank you."

It was one of the few occasions in which a stage star had been forced to make a curtain speech in an East Liverpool theatre, and it was a deserved tribute to a great actor who has surrounded himself with a great cast in the presentation of a great drama.

From curtain call in the first act to the dramatic climax in the third act of "Honor Be Damned!" there was not a dull moment. It was replete with comedy, wit and drama, and was staged in a manner that should win the approval of audiences in Philadelphia and other large cities on the itinerary of the Mack production.

Supporting Mack were Lizzie McCall, in the role of Mrs. Connell, his mother; Ruth King, as his sister, Mary Connell, whose talents were especially evidenced by the capable way in which she essayed her difficult role; Beatrice Banyard, as Beebe Dawley; Ethel Gray Terry as Agnes Delrae; William Courtleigh, as "Big" Tom Reynolds; Carl Gerard, as Lou Buckley; George Cleveland, as Sammie Stern; Harry English, as Ted McBride; Thomas F. Tracey, as Phil McGoveny, and Huron L. Blyden, as Andrew Roby.

"Honor Be Damned!" is a play with a punch and a moral, and should prove a winner from a box office standpoint as well as a treat for theatre patrons.

League Hits Short Skirts.

Distressed by the ground gained by "degenerate Western fashions," a national league has been established in Germany with headquarters in Munich. The slogan is "Abolish low necks, short sleeves and abbreviated dresses," and the league has issued a call upon the women to rally in support of "the true ideals of German womanhood."

Sciatic-Neuritis

The trouble is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual pain sedative even to alleviate the pain. The best way to get relief from the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced, if not almost banished, all pain and soreness. Continue faithfully and in a reasonable time you should be able to work and rest in comfort once again. J. D. Holloway and Mathews Med. Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

MINE OWNERS STAND PAT AT THEIR PARLEY

Union Men Oppose Any Reduction in Wage Scale.

APRIL 1 IS DAY

Workers Will Use Radio in Organization Work.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Hope of avoidance of a walkout of union miners in the Ohio soft-coal fields April 1, today appeared remote, following the meeting here late yesterday of directors of the Ohio Coal Operators' association.

The operators stood pat on their decision to close their mines at the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement, unless the miners themselves made overtures for a settlement.

Mine union officials have indicated they stand firmly upon the stand taken at the Miami wage conference in which they demanded no reduction in the Jacksonville wage scale.

"We have no quarrel with John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers," said S. H. Robbins, Cleveland, president of the Ohio operators. "But I think he is wrecking his own organization as well as the Ohio coal business by insisting on the Jacksonville wage scale."

The Ohio coal operators pointed out that "it is impossible to continue operations under the Jacksonville wage scale, owing to rapidly declining production."

They assert that the agreement consummated in the central Pennsylvania field recently, was under entirely different conditions than those now prevalent in the Ohio field. The central Pennsylvania field has a separate wage scale and a separate agreement, and is not a part of the Central competitive field to which Ohio belongs.

In an endeavor to meet the "greatest crisis in the history of their union," the Ohio miners are planning to use the radio in an attempt to unionize the West Virginia and Kentucky fields. This plan was decided upon after a court injunction stopped distribution of union propaganda in the non-union field.

STANDARD OIL in the last three months has paid dividends of more than $55,000,000. That's at the rate of more than 5 per cent on $4,000,000,000; so there is a $4,000,000,000 concern right there.

If you wait a few years it will be a $10,000,000,000 concern. But, as you know, Mr. Rockefeller doesn't own all of it, or even half of it.

A great deal of Standard Oil prosperity, by the way, has been achieved in a market of hard competition by intelligent newspaper advertising. It is to be hoped the able managers know that, and realize that it pays to talk directly to the people through daily newspaper advertising. This writer, by the way, hasn't one dollar's interest in any newspaper advertising, anywhere.

and license real estate brokers and salesmen.

Carpenter Resolution Adopted.

Because of a tie vote, the Republican senators, in caucus late Wednesday, failed to endorse the proposed gasoline tax increase, but agreed to discuss the proposal at another caucus to be held next Tuesday at which time, also, consideration will be given to the proposed amusement tax.

Both senate and house Republicans have agreed upon the excise and franchise tax increases and have endorsed provisions of the Orton bill, recodifying laws, which relieve counties and townships from assessment for construction and maintenance of state roads.

The senate adopted a resolution, by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, asking congress to provide that the federal government shall pay half the cost of completing construction of the Ohio river road which is part of the Atlantic and Pacific Federal highway. It is proposed to complete highway construction between Shadesville and Powhatan a distance of 12 miles at an estimated cost of more than $800,00 and between Stratton and Wellsville, about five miles.

The Price bill, providing for changing boundary lines of Ohio congressional districts, has been recommitted to the senate federal relations committee.

Sinclair, Facing Jail Term, Prepares To Appeal Case

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Convicted on four counts charging contempt of the United States senate, Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, resumed business from his hotel desk today while his attorneys perfected their appeal to a higher court.

A jury in the supreme court of the District of Columbia found the oil man guilty last night after deliberating eight hours and ten minutes. The law carries a mandatory penalty of one month to one year in the District of Columbia jail and a fine of $100 to $1,000. Sentence will be pronounced by Justice William Hitz, who presided at the trial, within four days, or as soon as the defense attorneys have prepared their appeal to carry the case to the district court of appeals. Sinclair's counsel have asserted they will fight the case to the United States supreme court.

Sinclair's conviction is the first on record in federal courts for contempt of the senate since 1896. The case grew out of his refusal to answer certain questions before the senate oil committee, on March 22, 1924, bearing upon his negotiations with Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall for the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, naval oil reserve lease of April 7, 1922.

Fifteen Ballots Required.

Fifteen ballots were required to bring about the verdict in the jury room, with the count standing 11 to 1 for conviction, from the first to the fourteenth. The conviction emphatically affirms the hitherto challenged right of the senate to force testimony from reluctant witnesses. The case doubtless will become a precendent in all similar proceedings, particularly that now shaping on the refusal of Samuel Insull, Illinois public utility magnate, to answer some of the questions of the Reed campaign fund investigating committee.

Justice Hitz, in his instructions, confined the jurors to a consideration of four basic facts—was Sinclair summoned before the committee, did he appear, was he sworn, and did he refuse to answer certain questions? These facts were admitted by both sides from the outset. The defense was almost entirely upon technical grounds challenging the authority of the committee to ask the unanswered questions, and attacking the pertinency of the questions.

A second criminal proceeding growing out of the Teapot Dome leasing is set for trial in the district supreme court April 25, when Sinclair and Fall are to be tried for conspiracy to defraud the government in the leasing negotiations.

We will prove that these attacks were made. We will ask you then to fix the amount of damage done to him by these unwarranted attacks."

Gallagher closed with this declaration, his argument having lasted ten minutes.

Reed Smiles On Jury.

Then Reed arose. He smiled on the jury. He spoke quietly.

"This is a case between Aaron Sapiro and Henry Ford," said Reed.

"This is not the case of the Hebrew race against Henry Ford and the Dearborn publishing company. I think his honor will tell you that the Hebrew race is not bringing this suit. Mr. Sapiro cannot come here and collect money for damages done the Hebrew race and then put that money in his pocket."

A golden dream of wealth and empire inspired Sapiro, so-called "wheat king," to seek control of American agriculture through a nation-wide series of cooperative associations, Reed charged.

The fiery Missourian branded Sapiro as a greedy dreamer, who organized farmers into associations to their loss and his own profit.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 17.—Cheap money and aggressive pool activity was Wall street's explanation for the exuberant buying of the industrial speculative favorites which swept prices forward to new high levels in the early trading today.

United States Steel, General Motors and American Telephone and Telegraph were the leaders in this movement, but the telegraph stock dropped out after the president of the company flatly denied that stock split-ups or reorganization of any kind was contemplated. The stock sold at 168 at the opening, with a block of 2,000 shares.

Wall street heard that Durant, Whelan and other powerful speculative operators had formed a new pool to boost U. S. Steel to 175 for the old stock and 125 for the W. I. new stock, in anticipation of the inauguration of 7 per cent dividends on the stock when authorized by stockholders next month. Meanwhile, the steel corporation was reported operating at 88 per cent of ingot capacity, an increase of 2 per cent over last week.

General Motors sold above 179 in an enormous volume of trading as steel common was pushed to 164¼, both record high prices.

The pace of the market was "fast and furious" in this period, with blocks of 500 to 5,000-share sales reported on the tape. A few of the rail road shares participated in the move, the list including Delaware Lackawanna, Missouri Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. Oils held firmly in the face of further price cutting in retail gasoline and the weak market for wholesale gasoline in Chicago.

Call money advanced to 4 per cent against yesterday's close at 3 1-2. Commodity markets were steady, with wheat and cotton slightly lower.

NO. 12. MARCH 17, 1927. VOL. 1.

The next real big event on our calendar is St. Patrick's Day. 'Rah for the Irish!

Heard in Diamond Cafe

"What kind o' pie y' got?"

"Apple, gooseberry, custard, raisin, cocoanut, pumpkin, peach, apricot, chocolate, blueberry, raspberry, blackberry and cream."

"Ain't y' got mince?"

A friend of ours who is something of a shark at mathematics came in here the other evening and asked us to help him trisect a triangle. We cleared our throat and tried to appear interested. Then he slipped the information to us that this is a problem that nobody has ever been able to solve. We've been so blamed busy around the place here that we haven't been able to give the thing much time. Maybe next summer we'll trisect it for him. In the meantime, we suggest that he go right ahead and try to get it himself. He'll remember it better that way.

An East Liverpool business man received a payment on account the other day and a letter which said, "Please tell me how I stand in the rear."

Yesterday a friend of ours told us his wife wasn't feeling very well. "Guess I'd better call her up and see how she is," he said and took the phone. Pretty soon he put the receiver up. "She's all right now. The line's busy."

Everything in doors and windows can be furnished promptly through our establishment. We have stock designs or we can order anything you want.

Sometimes the old house just naturally has to expand. You can make the extra rooms at low cost by partitioning with Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard.

Sheetrock, which we sell and recommend most heartily, is made of pure gypsum rock, in great, broad sheets. Saws and nails like lumber. Decorates perfectly (all joints concealed.) Let us show you a sample and estimate for you.

White Stag Causes Fears.

Country people in the vicinity of Chipstable, England, are in a state of fear because of the appearance of a white stag in that neighborhood. They believe that the coming of the rare specimen of deer is a forerunner of disaster. The animal is four feet high and, judging by the antlers, is six years old. Many who have seen it say that it is pure white even to the antlers.

Dines Chickens; Is the Goat.

Tucking $75 into her apron pocket, a farmer's wife of Baden, Germany, went out to feed the chickens. Her task completed she found that the notes had been eaten by a goat while she was busy. And, the correspondent adds, the good frau said more in the next three minutes than she could have done for $75 over the trans-Atlantic telephone service.

80 Miles of Modern Concrete Streets laid by 75 Ohio Cities

That is the record for 1926. It is an increase of nearly 45 per cent over 1925.

There's a reason!

Traffic today—rubber-tired and motor-driven — requires a special pavement. It must be hard, smooth and safe. It must be pleasing in appearance.

Portland cement concrete combines these qualities perfectly.

LEGISLATURE IS DOWN TO GRIND

Routine Matters Taken Up at Opening Session Yesterday.

Long session of the legislature opened yesterday at Charleston with the principal business devoted to clearing out of the way some formidable routine that had threatened to engross attention to the detriment of legislative work.

Pending impeachment trial of former State Auditor John C. Bond melted away with the adjournment of the senate court of impeachment because Bond resigned from office Tuesday. The senate also made short work of a contest looming over one of its seats by refusing to receive the contest petition.

Former Senator Clyde B. Johnson, Democrat, sought to contest the seat to which Senator Walter S. Hallanan, Republican, had been elected with a narrow margin in the eighth district. When his petition came before the senate, a question as to whether it had been filed within the legal time limit was raised and for a time it was understood that this was made a point of order on which President M. Z. White would have to rule. This was later declared to be a misunderstanding and a 20 to 8 vote along party lines marked the refusal to receive the petition.

Meanwhile the house of delegates received a report by the speaker on expenditures of the house to date, showing a grand total of $21,149. Of this $1,214 was before the legislature met, $9,035 during the initial session, and $10,899 in the interim, the speaker explaining that more than $3,400 of this was for postage and mailing of bills and journals.

The first bill through the adjourned session was a local measure validating some district road bonds in Wetzel county, suspension of the rules making possible its passage by both senate and house yesterday. Speaker Johnson appealed to the house committees to report out to the house as many as possible of local measures early in the session, giving prospect that the next few days would see many of these measures out of the way. Meantime two delegates presented resolutions which if adopted would permit introduction of two more local measures, one affecting the Mannington charter and the other a Mason county road fund.

Another resolution, introduced by Delegate Cooper, of Webster county, discoursed in its preamble on disastrous fires to state buildings in Charleston and suggested locating the capitol at Webster Springs.

SCHOOL LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

Triangular baseball league was organized last night at a meeting in the high school building attended by members of the faculty and students. The season will be launched next Monday providing the weather continues favorable.

Schedule will be drawn up for the three clubs with games to be played on the Rock Springs park diamond. There will be no outside games listed this year for the high school team owing to the new arrangement.

Practicing for Meet.

Chester high and grade schools will be largely represented in the annual county field and track meet which will be held at New Cumberland, Friday, May 13.

Number of high school students are practicing for the track squad.

MINE BLAZE IS UNDER CONTROL

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., March 17.—A small fire which was discovered in the No. 1, mine of the Brady Warner Coal Co., at Osage, near here yesterday, was reported completely under control today. Supt. Warren Cook said that stories circulated regarding 150 men being at work in the mine were false, and that only ten men were working there when the fire was discovered late yesterday. All these men were working near the mouth of the pit, he said. Unless the fire breaks out anew, no serious consequences are feared by mine officials.

LANSING, MICH., MAN HELD FOR OHIO MURDER

Arrested in Cleveland for Killing of Taxi Driver.

"WENT STRAIGHT"

Claims he Paid "Hush Money" to Wife and Police.

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—Said to be known in Lansing, Mich., as A. G. Gordon, a man booked by local detectives as Charles O'Malley, is being held today for the killing of James Graham, a taxi driver, here seven years ago.

Graham was shot and killed in October, 1920, and until recently the crime had been listed as an "unsolved murder."

Gordon, alias O'Malley, was arrested a week ago in Detroit, following a tip to police, said to have come from his estranged wife. For the past three years, police say, he has been "going straight."

According to Gordon's story, he left his wife immediately following the shooting. He claims he has paid "hush money" ever since, to his wife and also to Toledo and Detroit police. He found employment in Lansing as an auto salesman and gained rapid promotion.

Several weeks ago, he says, he "tired of paying further blackmail," and decided to quit it. His arrest soon followed.

He is expected to be indicted shortly.

CHURCH ORGAN IS DEDICATED

Clarence Eddy Conducts Recital in Presbyterian Church.

The new organ recently installed in the remodeled Presbyterian church at Lisbon was dedicated Wednesday night, the recital being in charge of Clarence Eddy, of Chicago, Ill., presiding at the new Kilgen organ.

Many attended from all of the larger communities in this county, and some from Jefferson, Mahoning, Carroll and Stark counties.

The services was opened by the singing of the doxology and was followed by the invocation, this being pronounced by the Rev. P. W. Macaulay, pastor of the church. The actual dedicatory service was in the form of a responsive reading between the pastor and congregation.

Ten numbers were played by Mr. Eddy, and there were several response numbers given as special features.

Tonight will be Presbytery night. Among those who will speak are the Rev. J. C. Strubel, a former pastor of this church; Rev. Percy Gordon of Salem and Rev. B. F. Brundage, D. D., moderator of Mahoning presbytery and pastor of Canton Calvary church.

Organ numbers will be played by Miss Ethel Schmucker, organist of the Lutheran church, Canton.

Jury Discharged.

After deliberating over four hours, a jury was unable to come to an agreement in the case of John C. Sanor against Gertrude M. Patterson, administrator under the will of the estate of the late Percy L. Patterson. The jury when it reported to Judge W. F. Lones was excused from further consideration of the case and it was then marked for continuance. The action was to recover $350 on a note, and has been pending in common pleas court since May 14th last.

Granted Leave to File.

William C. Maple, administrator of the estate of Anna Garland, has been granted leave to file an answer by March 30th to the petition of Verna Baker, who has sued the estate and administrator for $1,200. The amount is claimed to be due the plaintiff for labor and care.

Motion Overruled.

A motion filed by the North River Ins., company, of New York City in the case now in court against it has been overruled, and exceptions filed. In this cause James Anderson, plaintiff, seeks to recover $1,000 claimed to be due him for a fire loss he sustained and under a policy he held in the defendant company.

COAL COMPANY TO NAME OFFICERS

A meting of the stockholders in the E. E. Starkey Coal Co., which was formed last week will be held at Lisbon within the next 10 days, it is said for the purpose of receiving the charter from Columbus, and at which time a board of directors and officers will be chosen.

During the last few days 400 additional acres of coal land in the vicinity of the new mines in West township have been leased on a royalty basis, and between 300 and 400 additional acres are to be taken up. This aggregate will give the company between 1,000 and 1,200 acres under lease when operations begin.

The new mine will have two openings, and all loading will be from the same tipple. Engineers from Cleveland are expected on the property next week for the purpose of laying the ground plan for the location of the tipple, power plant, blacksmith shop and also for a new entry.

As the new company will operate on a cooperative basis, all employes will be stockholders.

FOUR MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

A marriage license has been issued to Raymond Mehnert of Kensington, a former resident of Lisbon and Miss Helen Archibald of Kensington, and who formerly resided at Minerva. They were married at the parsonage of the Lisbon Christian church by Rev. R. J. Bennett.

Woman Given Divorce.

Sustaining the charges related in her original petition, a decree of divorce has been granted Verla Cole by Judge W. F. Lones from her husband John Cole, the decree being granted on grounds of wilful absence for over a period of three years and extreme cruelty. The costs in the action are to be paid by the plaintiff.

Case Dismissed.

For lack of prosecution, the case of James L. Prosser against Harvey Pugh has been dismissed by Judge Lones, and at the costs of Prosser. In this petition the plaintiff sought $20,000 damages from the defendant for alienation of affections.

HIGHWAY MONEY IS AVAILABLE

According to advices received by Clerk L. H. Johnson of the county commissioners, the state highway department has $9,281.81 intercounty highway money, appropriated for Columbiana county, but which has not been assigned.

This record also shows that $2,400 has been assigned for two roads in Carroll county from the I. C. H. fund, while $10,000 I. C. H. funds have been assigned to Jefferson county and that this county has $8,946.31 unassigned.

Commissioners have been urged by W. A. Alsdorf of Columbus to make such suggestions to Columbiana county representatives and senators from this district, in order that the appropriation may be preserved for this county as has been outlined.

There remains from the appropriation made by the last legislature for improved highway purposes, $624,910 of I. C. H. funds that have been assigned and $241,050 of main market road money. The total of the unassigned funds for all counties in the state total $990,739, in which is included the amount that has been unassigned but due Columbiana county.

The orginal leases for oil purposes on some of these lands according to the records dates back to March 11, 1911.

Negotiations For County League Title Series Deadlocked

Managers Fail To Reach Agreement At Salem Parley

Games With Midland Collegians will be Booked in Event Series With Damascus Fails to Materialize; Elks Lose at Salem, 30-17.

Negotiations with the Damascus club, first half champions of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball League, for the final play-off to determine the season's championship, which were launched last night by Manager Ray Adam, of the East Liverpool Elks, second half title winners, had failed to reach a satisfactory conclusion when the managerial conference concluded last night after a half-hour's debate.

Although no definite agreement on anything was reached, indications today pointed to a suspension of the series, in which event the Elks will claim the championship. No formal announcement of the result of the conference was issued by the managers but league followers are inclined to the belief that the old eligibility question again is bobbing up.

Unless Manager Bye, of Damascus and Manager Adam, of the Elks, get together today, the latter, it was indicated, will immediately start arrangements with the Midland Collegians, who have been setting a fast pace in independent basketball in western Pennsylvania this winter, for a series of probably three games.

The Midland series has been under consideration for several weeks but no action on the proposal was taken pending the disposition of the Columbiana county league title series.

Losing, 30 to 17, to the Salem Mullins club, which was out on the floor in all its strength and power, the Elks last night wound up their regular league season at Salem, with a record of 29 victories out of 24, exclusive of the first half play-off with Damascus.

The Antlers started the first half with a defeat and wound up with a defeat; they began the second half with a defeat and they finished with a defeat; but how they did play in between!

Coach Bill Powell's passers hung up 12 straight victories in the first half and eight consecutive wins in the second.

Last night the Mullins club threw their full resources against the Antlers and succeeded in copping the contest in a last half splurge of field goals, with the Elks doing some of the most atrocious shooting of the season.

The local club lacked the speed and fire of Ray Wilde more than anything else and at the same time realized that the result would have no bearing on the title.

Wilde was obliged to keep a banquet date last night, and being unusually fond of large, green olives, took the night off, inasmuch as victory was not important.

In his shoes Joe Canne, who climbed out of a sick bed Monday and who really was not in proper condition to go through a gruelling physical contest such as the Mullins team is capable of giving any squad, played a great game.

Dave Shupe performed at forward and all over the court. Besides figuring as an important factor in the defense, he led scorers of both teams with four field goals and three fouls for a total of 11 points. Only one other man in the game, Sidinger, of Salem, caged as many field goals as Shupe.

The dodge marksmanship on the whole, thought, was very low. They rained the ball off the banking board throughout the entire game.

Carl Wilson was in action the last half at a forward post, along with Tom Pusey and their floor work was unimpeachable.

The Elks led, 7 to 6, at the end of the first period, but fell by the wayside in the second quarter, the half ending with the count of 13 to 9. Salem remained in the lead in the third canto, when the count was 20 to 15, and then stepped out to make it 30 while the locals were getting two in the wind-up paragraph.

Bachelors and Benedicts Draw, 20-20, In Annual Court Battle

Contest Goes 10 Rounds, With Everybody Groggy, But Still on Their Feet, at the Bell.

After ten fast and furious rounds at the high school last night, the H. L. Smith Newsstand Married and the Single Men's basketball teams, as they humorously called themselves, were awarded a 20 to 20 draw by Referee Bill Watkins.

In one respect the exhibition differed from the regular Marquis of Queensbury performance. No one wore gloves. This was one of the big features. Others included strangle holds that would have made Ed Lewis, himself, jealous, and end runs that would send Red Grange and Jim Thorpe back to the bushes.

However, by way of diversion and in order to make the game appear "as advertised," some field goals were made. There were no fouls—called.

The affair was played in three-minute rounds. For the opening rounds the Bachelors had all the best of the milling but the Married Men, as a result of years of experience that have developed a wonderful stamina and ability for taking punishment, came through in the closing periods to tie up the count.

And no small part of the entire proceedings was the announcing of "Cheese" Aldridge prior to hostilities.

Heckathorne, southpaw of the Bachelors, landed the first telling blows with a basket from scrimmage and the Batches continued to pile up points until the count was 14 to six at the end of the sixth round.

The crowd for the closing rounds saw the Bennies wage an uphill battle with McConville, Coleman, Mundy and Merchant tossing in the field goals that gave them a tie.

Mundy and Coleman were the stars for the Married Men and Bloor, Heckathorne and Gerace enacted similar roles for the Bachelors. All others saw stars.

Won't Meet Pennock's Demands.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17—While Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, has signed Outfielder Bob Meusel to a two year contract, he declares that Herb Pennock can "hold out for life" before the club will meet his salary demands. The star southpaw is said to be asking $20,000 a year for two years.

May Lose First Base Job.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 17.—As a result of his poor showing in yesterday's game when Brooklyn lost to the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 1, Babe Herman may lose his job at first base.

Outfielder is Problem.

TAMPA, Fla., March 17.—The outfield is causing Bucky Harris considerable concern. He will have to release some of his promising youngsters and is afraid he may make a serious mistake. Rice, Goslin, Speaker and McNeely are the outer garden fixtures.

All the Buckeyes performed in a classy manner and with the exception of Lindell figured in the scoring. Feit and McConville were the scoring stars for the winners.

Miller, Bartley and Hoskinson showed the best brand of basketball for the Chester Reserves.

Giants Lose to Braves.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 17.—The New York Giants were not quite so cockey today as a result of their 4 to 3 defeat by the Boston Braves. Rogers Hornsby was the leading hitter with three bingles, while Ott, youthful Giant outfielder, continued his sensational batting with a triple and a single.

Giants Irritated By Roush's Tactics

By Davis J. Walsh.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17.—Who is the dumbest guy on the Giants ball club?

This is neither an impertinent nor personal question because the Giants themselves, playing this end of the grape fruit circuit today, really would like to know. According to members of rival teams with whom the writer talked, so many Giants have nominated other players with the outfit for this doubtful distinction that it is fast becoming apparent that most of them are very dumb or all of them are very mistaken.

This condition, plus a general irritation against Ed Roush for his failure to join the club when offered a $20,000 contract, would seem to indicate that a disquieting condition is developing in the Giants' camp.

However, Manager John McGraw has another story to tell.

"It's not the best club that ever was organized," he said. "It has its little weaknesses here and there, which I don't care to elaborate upon. All I want to say is that I have a smarter, faster club than last year, with more punch and a sounder defense, and I think it is good enough to win.

Cubs Possible Contender.

"The other contenders? Well, you must figure the Cardinals, Pirates and Reds, for one thing, and the Cubs will be dangerous. In fact, they may turn out to be the team we will have to beat. Anyway I'll say that the club that wins the pennant will have to beat us."

McGraw declined to comment in any way on Roush's absence from the camp but his intimates made no secret of the fact that John has taken great umbrage over the matter, as has indeed the team in general. Roush, they say, has been offered $20,000 for the season as compared with the $19,000 he wanted from the Reds; yet, he has ignored both the offer and the man who made it.

Of course, like a drug clerk who hasn't what you want, the ball club doesn't live that doesn't have "something just as good" with which to forget an absent star. The something in this case is Melvin Ott, the 17-year-old catcher of last year who is the 18-year-old centerfielder this year. They say that Ott will be in the lineup every day by the first of June, Roush or no Roush.

The Giants have plenty of outfielders in camp but not all of them are good. In fact, the writer would venture to say that it is an open question whether the club is as strong as it was last year.

Weakened at First Base.

It has been weakened, beyond all doubt, at first base where Terry will appear instead of the departed Kelly. It is stronger at second because with the uncertain Frisch replaced by Rogers Hornsby, who looks slower to me although he is hitting well and obviously is saving himself. However, the loss of Ross Young in right field would hurt any club and the Giants are no exception. Further than that a club with three untried catchers making up the entire staff of receivers is not exactly any man's certainty.

Except for Burleigh Grimes, the human salivary gland, the pitchers will be the same as last year. Kent Greenfield, always a slow starter, will be pitching good baseball by the first of June; Hugh McQuillan, always a rapid starter, is being prevailed upon to do nothing at this stage and he likes it; Fred Fitzsimmons started well but stopped when he hurt his hand by carelessly leaving it under the rocker of a chair; Virgil Barnes was a good pitcher last year and still is; Jack Bentley is back again without his convolutions but nobody has noticed the difference, and Dutch Henry, the southpaw who was tried and found guilty before, is up again from Indianapolis and this time he will stay.

Three Untried Catchers.

The rising young men include Bill Clarkson, the Raleigh, N. C., specimen, who returns from Toledo a reconditioned boy and they say a permanent one; Fay Thomas, University of Southern California man who also is touted to stay, and Louis Almada, an eighteen-year-old Mexican lefthander, who probably will go away and come back. Howard Holland, University of Virginia product, also is around but nobody knows how long.

The three untried catchers include Al De Vormer, the lad who dived into Lake Michigan, fully clothed, to win $10, while a member of the Yankees; Jack Cummings, up from Wheeling, W. Va., with an injured hand but another Schalk, according to McGraw, and Sanford Hamby, Portsmouth, Va., who either will do or won't, according to the way the coin falls. One Castro, of Cuba, also is about the premises but he is going to George Burns at Williamsport, Pa.

The infield, as everyone knows will be Terry, Hornsby, Jackson and Lindstrom, with Eddie Farrell as utility man, with Eddie Farrell, Andy Cohen, sent to Buffalo with a recall option exerciseable on twenty-four hours notice; and Andy Reese, up from Memphis and Bentley ready to relieve Terry at first base. Reese also may alternate with George Harper, ex-Phillie, in right field, McGraw having determined to use an alternating outfield against right and left hand pitching. Among those who will be permitted to be available are Roush, "Bevo" Le Bourveau, back from the American association and proving himself to be a fine hitter; Al Tyson, once of Louisville; Harper, Reese and the callow Mr. Ott. Heine Mueller, ex-Cardinal, still is here but lots of things can happen and probably will. "Tex" Jeanes, ex-Senator, seems to be in the same boat as Mueller.

BILLY MAJORS NEAR DEATH

Famous Ohio Track Figure Critically Ill in Mansfield.

MANSFIELD, O., March 17.—"Billy" Majors, picturesque figure on the race tracks of Ohio and surrounding states for nearly half a century, is near death at his home here today, physicians announced. Majors, who is 65, and the oldest racing trainer and driver in the state, is suffering from a complication of diseases following an attack of influenza. Little hope is held out for his recovery, doctors said, although there has been no appreciable change in his condition during the past several days.

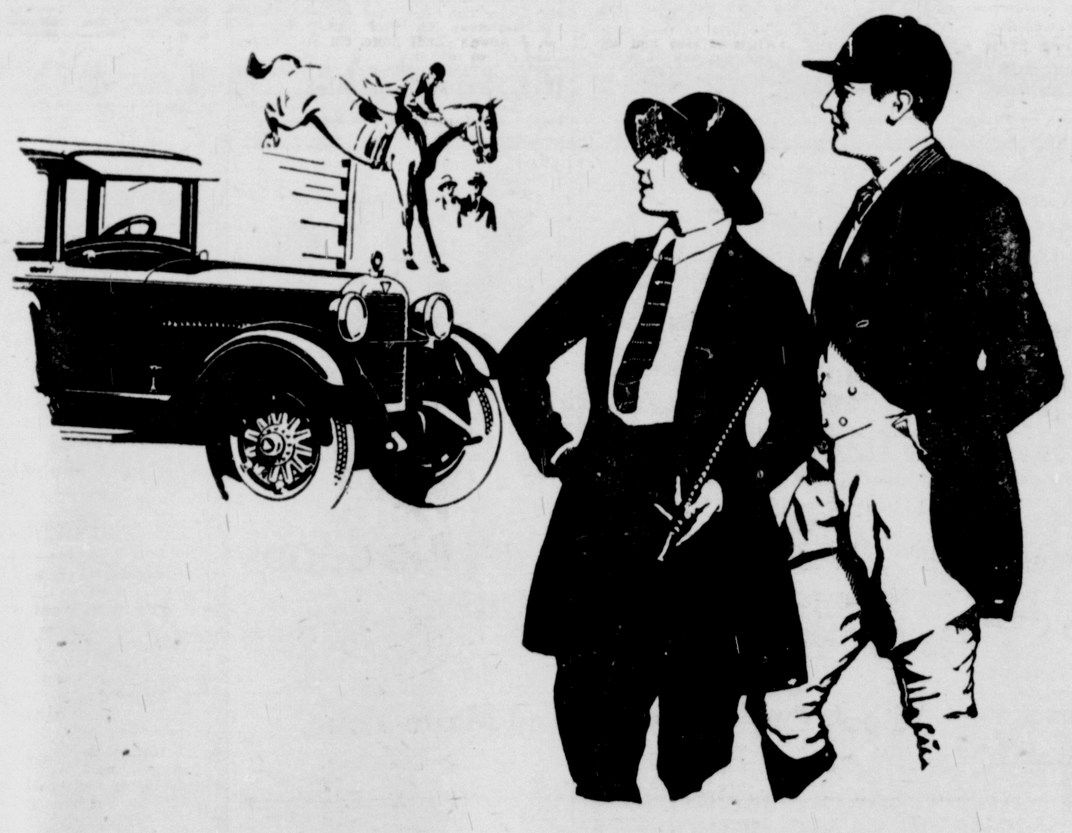

Majors began his career 48 years ago, when at the age of 17, he drove his first race on the old Hiawatha track, at Mount Vernon. From that day, he has figured actively in racing circles, training hundreds of horses, and driving many famous races. He has trained and driven for former Congressman Winfield Scott Kerr, and for Myers S. Cooper, of Cincinnati.

Among the more famous horses which Majors has piloted to victory on Ohio tracks are "Miss Rejected," 2:02 1-4; "Lady Pites," 2:02 1-4; and "Happy the Great," a promising animal which he developed and trained recently, which he owns.

As Thrilling in Beauty as in Performance—

Everyone says—"Nothing like it in the world"

The mere announcement of the Super-Six principle, freed to the limit, focused on Hudson a dramatic public expectancy such as never awaited any other car. In appearance and value, as well as performance, it is the most talked of car of the year.

New riders, new buyers and thousands who merely witness its vivid dash on the road are saying "There is nothing like it in the world."

In all it does, there is effortless ease, from its swift, smooth glide into motion, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four wheel brakes. It has been accorded the greatest public reception in Hudson history.

"THE POTTERS" IS SCREEN HIT

W. C. Fields Plays Browbeated Pa's Role.

The amusing character of browbeaten Pa Potter, eternally hopeful of some day making a million dollars, now being played by W. C. Fields in his latest Paramount starrring picture, "The Potters," at the Ceramic theatre, has a real life background as startling as the most bizarre of his imagined adventures.

A little over five years ago, a young journalist named J. P. McEvoy conceived the idea of a series of illustrated dialogues called "The Potters" and offered them for newspaper syndication. After months of hard work the series began to catch on and before long McEvoy discovered that the income from Pa Potter's adventures was sufficient to allow him to devote his entire time to the "family."

Its success seemed to warrant a more permanent form of expression and McEvoy ambitiously proceeded to write a play.

In the early part of 1923, Richard Herndron produced it with Donald Meek playing the ineffectual fortune-seeker. To McEvoy's great delight the play scored a hit and the proceeds of its long run began to put the author on easy street.

Two years later, the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, seeking a story for W. C. Fields, purchased the movie rights from McEvoy for a fancy figure and once again the imaginary character of poor, old Pa turned a real fortune into the lap of his creator. Since then McEvoy has produced "God Loves Us" and "Americana." The cast in Fileds' picture includes Ivy Harris as Mamie Potter; Mary Alden, Ma Potter; Richard "Skeets" Gallagher, Red Miller; and Jack Egan, Bill Potter.

Paris has three-wheeled auto racers.

Cities Vie for Style Lead.

Roused by the announcement that London was to start the fashion among men of wearing knee breeches, clothiers of Paris issued a call that the Parisian city should have control of men as well as women's styles. The call also urged the up-to-the-minute dressers to adopt the new idea in male costume before the British subjects did so. Now both cities are claiming that the revival of the abbreviated trousers started within their borders and that hereafter they will be the leaders in men's styles of every description.
